Finds Evidence Of Poor

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—
Definitely guided by President
Roosevelt's own hand, a White House campaign was in full swing today to make the American public realize they face material sacrifices if Adolf Hitler's dreams of a Nazi world domination are to be crushed.

In so many words, the president warned people of the United States that "hard, tough fighting that will hurt somebody" is in prospect if the democracies are going to stop Germany. Quite frankly, Mr. Roosevelt laid plans with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill looking forward to a continuation of the war into 1943.

Finger On Pulse

The chief executive, it appeared, had put a finger on the national pulse and found a sluggish apathy that distressed him. Poor morale in army camps, indifference of management and labor in notable instances to urgency of the defense program, and a general public lethargy induced by unwariness of what lies ahead all have come to his notice in recent weeks.

A first step to correct this situation was seen in the surprise announcement of the war department that 200,000 "hardship" selectees and

PA NEW OBSERVES

No more delightful day could be ordered than today, which is especially gratifying to the Old Timers Day Association. The sun turned out nice and warm, yet the air was cool enough that those in attendance will not suffer from the heat.

Folks who have thought the weather of the past week rather unseasonable, will do well to scrutinize the temperature reports for the coming week a year ago. On August 26, the mercury got down as low as 59 degrees during the day, but it warmed up towards the end of the month, so there is still some hope for hot weather before Jack Frost puts on his annual blitzkrieg.

It used to be that before a child entered school, he had to be successfully vaccinated. To this now it would seem, has been added the ordeal of having his tonsils whacked out. The tonsilectomy season is now on in full swing at the hospital, the admission and discharge notes indicate.

Today is Old Timers Day at Cascade Park and we mean Old Timers.
The combined ages of those who will attend the annual reunion this afternoon, would equal the distance in miles instead of years. They will be having the time of their lives too.

State Police Rodeo Touch Of Wild West

Sixty men and sixty horses, trained to the minute, synchronizing their efforts, working together like sixty modern centaurs. Three hours of lance drills, Roman riding, trick riding, fancy shooting, drills of intricate designs, this is a thumb nail picture of the State Motor Police Rodeo to be held at the New Castle Fair grounds Saturday afternoon and evening, September 6th.

It's a grand show, the state police rodeo. It's a breath of the old west, a galaxy of courage and daring that you haven't seen since Pawnee Bill used to stage his wild west shows and confidentially the police rodeo outshines even that old classic.

DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENTS

(International News Service)

Widespread German advances featured the fighting on the far-flung eastern front today as Joseph Stalin's hard-pressed troops prepared to repel a rumored air-borne offensive across the broad reaches of the Dnieper River, deep in the vital Ukraine.

A number of huge, tank-carrying four-motored Junkers transports were shot down yesterday, Moscow declared, and the presence of others reported.

The Red army high command believed that Germany would seek to fly its troops across the Dnieper rather than risk a water crossing.

Two Years Needed To Defeat Nazis

Anglo-American Plan Envisages Two More Years Of War For Victory

By KINGSBURY SMITH

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—A six-point program envisaging at least two more years of war forms the basis of the Anglo-American plan of strategy to defeat Nazi Germany, responsible official quarters indicated today.

The six-point program, which represents in effect, the war plans agreed upon by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill in their historic sea conference, is said to be along the following lines:

Encourage Russia

1—Encourage Russia by all practical means to hold out against the German military onslaught this winter, and stock up the Soviets with war supplies for a spring campaign to keep Adolf Hitler engaged in a major war on the eastern front next year.

2—Continue aid to China and keep Japan isolated in the far east and in a constant state of warning over encirclement and the danger of a major clash with the United States, Great Britain and Russia if she attack any one of the latter, or directly menaces their vital interests.

3—Strongly reinforce the British in the Mediterranean area with increased American war supplies, especially planes and British-aided troops to hold in check an anticipated German drive there this winter.

4—Increase as rapidly as possible the delivery of American-made bombers to Great Britain not only for the purposes of intensifying the R. A. F. raids on Germany, but to develop a reserve air force which will give the British strong superiority over the German Luftwaffe by the end of 1942.

5—Beat Germany to the draw by the occupation of all strategic outposts which the Nazis may threaten, such as Iran, Dakar, the Azores,
the Cape Verde Islands and Turkey;

6—Great Britain to follow a major defensive strategy of holding out

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 20.—Five navy fliers were dead in Florida today as the result of two crashes, one a head-on clash of two "blind" flying planes at an altitude of 4,500 feet.

A lieutenant and two cadets were killed in the head-on crash near Pensacola as the two planes were flying by instruments. The dead were Lt. William J. Sisko, 35, of Pontiac, Mich., and cadets Cassius Menlo Thomas, 22, of Temore, Cal., and Edwin W. Holt, 22, of Pearl River, N. Y.

Second-Lieutenant George B. Ax-tell, of Baden, Pa., succeeded in saving himself by bailing out after the aerial collision.

(International News Service)

BLAIRSVILLE, Pa., Aug. 20.—
A murder and suicide today snapped a brief link of wedded romance between two neighboring Indiana county hamlets.

Less than two months after they had run off to Cumberland, Md., to be married, Kenneth M. Sullinger, 25, and his 19-year-old bride, Mabel Hancock Sullinger, lay dead.

Groom Angry

Coroner Edward L. Fleming said that Sullinger, angered over his wife's refusal to live at his father's home, killed her and then turned his 32 calibre automatic pistol on himself last night.

The shooting occurred outside the home of Mrs. Sullinger's uncle, Mil-village adjoining Smithtown where Sullinger's family lives.

Strike Of 500

(International News Service)

MONACA, Pa., Aug. 20.—The United States Sanitary company, employing 500 men, closed down its plant today after 70 men in the enameling room walked out in a wage dispute. Company officials said the plant could not operate without the enamellers.

About 65 per cent of the company's output is plumbing for defense housing, according to company officials. The present contract with the SWOC expires at midnight and management and union officials have not yet been able to come to an agreement on a union demand for a wage increase.

How Soviet "Scorched Earth" Policy Works

Effect of Soviet Russia's "scorched earth" policy in territories she is forced to abandon in the face of German attacks is shown above in a radiophoto from Berlin. The censor-approved caption said that the picture shows Ukrainian peasants trying to salvage grain from the charred ruins of a granary to which Soviet troops applied the torch before retreating.

BERLIN, Aug. 20.—Desperate Soviet counter-attacks in the Ukaraine have been repulsed with heavy losses to the Reds, and German troops are sweeping onward to the very banks of the Dnieper, Nazi military quarters announced today.

As Luftwaffe planes roared overhead to turn the Russian retreat into a rout, a stubborn tank battle developed on the ground, it was said.

Thousands Killed

Thousands of Russians were annihilated and numerous Red tanks destroyed, with the exception of a few which managed to get across the Dnieper.

Several thousand prisoners were taken.

On the central front, strong Soviet counter-attacks were thrown back with severe casualties sustained by the Reds.

Meanwhile, the German offensive in the north has pushed within artillery range of Leningrad's outskirts, it was stated.

But, the Germans admitted as columns drove eastward from Narva on the Gulf of Finland, capture of the former Russian capital will be difficult since Leningrad has a heavy ring of fortifications around its approaches.

treat of Red army troops southeast

Trouble Arises Over CIO At-

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Aug. 20.—An
A. F. of L. strike paralyzed street car and bus facilities in the nation's fourth largest city today, throwing 11,000 men out of work at one automobile company, imperiling progress on defense contracts and inconveniencing hundreds of thousands of workers.

Informed of the strike,
Mayor Edward C. Jeffries went promptly to city hall and arranged for a conference with leaders of the union responsible for the strike.

Promptly at 4 a. m. operations on one of the most far flung municipal transportation systems in the country came to a standstill, only a few hours after an A.
F. of L. union voted to strike because of a jurisdictional dispute with a CIO union.

Hudson Plant Down

Immediate effects of the strike were soon evident. The Hudson Motor Car Company, engaged in filling defense orders, shut down three plants, employing 11,000 persons when only a limited number appeared for the first shift. Numerous other Detroit auto firms working on defense orders reported thousands of employees appeared late for work. Offices also reported their staffs were "tickling in."

Private automobiles jammed all today to establish training quarters for his title fight with Lou Nova next month. Actually, however, yesterday in the midst of a hearing demands, where in initial testimony Joe had accused his wife of extravagance and she in turn had charged the champion was a cruel husband.

But all the harsh words of their estrangement, which began April 19, were forgotten as the reconciliation was announced by their respective attorneys. Marva beamed as the announcement was made and even Dead-Pan Joe managed a hurried smile.

"I've always wanted to go back with Joe," Mrs. Louis said, and the champion added:

"We'll spend the weekend together in New York. Then I have to go into training for my fight with Lou Nova, September 19."

Shortly afterward, Joe and Marva started eastward by automobile, announcing their first stop would be Stevensville, Mich., where the champion's manager, Julian Black, maintains a fight stable and training quarters. Black said he had arranged to have everybody get out of the camp leaving it for the exclusive use of the honeymooners.

SHARON, Pa., Aug. 20.—Some 700 employees of the Malleable and Steel Castings company were out strike today as their CIO leaders voiced demands that their claims for wage increases be met.

The union spokesmen said that negotiations for increased wages were started two weeks ago. Seven hundred employees of one depart-midnight.

Now where are those plans for

May Be 20 Bodies In Hull Of 'Panuco'

Metal Cylinders Found On Decks

First Thought To Be Bombs; Were Fumigating Containers

SHIP SMOULDERING, TOO HOT TO SEARCH

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The dozen twisted metal cylinders discovered on the still-smouldering deck of the freighter Panuco and at first thought to be bombs were found on police analysis today to be fumigating containers.

After the discovery of the cylinders early today, they were taken to the police laboratories. There after careful examination it was announced that they were harmless and not responsible for the $2,000,000 fire Monday.

Number of Dead Uncertain
Meanwhile, officials were still experiencing difficulty in determining the number of men who lost their lives in the fire which destroyed pier 27, the Panuco and 12 loaded barges.

Three bodies, all now identified, were recovered Monday. Two charred bodies were taken from the Panuco yesterday. Police believe two stevedores drowned after leaping from the vessel. This would make a total of seven dead.

Until the fire still burning in the half-sunken ship is extinguished and the hull cools it will be impossible to learn how many perished in the floating crematory. Firemen believe that between 15 and 20 are below decks.

Fire department officials said it might be several days before divers will be able to enter the holds or below decks aft. Searchers found no bodies below decks in the fore-part.

A federal board of inquiry, which opened an investigation yesterday, failed to establish the exact cause of the blaze after quizzing officers of the Panuco and dock workers.

The superintendent of the Brooklyn pier where the Panuco caught fire before it was towed out into the harbor told the board that the fire could have been caused "deliberately" by a saboteur.

No Careless Smoker
The witness, John F. Manuel, in charge of the 140 longshoremen who were at work when the fire suddenly broke out at noon Monday, said that "no careless smoker caused this fire."

Manuel pointed out that he did not charge that the fire was a deliberate act of sabotage, but said that it could easily have been maliciously started from one of the barges moored near the dock.

The pier superintendent took the stand after Capt. Henry Teske, 67-year-old master of the Panuco, told the three-man board that he had reason to "suspect" that there had been some un-American agitation among the crew of the vessel.

and leaves the youngsters goggle-eyed. To be sure a lot of youngsters get to see the show, all children under sixteen will be admitted free if they are accompanied by their parents or a guardian.

Training For Weeks
Training for the rodeo has been in progress for weeks at the police training school at Hershey, Pa. Major Thomas Martin has had charge of the training and will direct the drills and riding at the rodeo. Locally, Lieutenant Andrew J. Hudak, commander of Troop D, will be in charge of the show with Major Jacob O. Mauk of Greensburg having general supervision. Col. Lynn G. Adams, head of the Pennsylvania Motor Police will be present and probably Major C. M. Wilhelm.

Three rodeos in all will be presented by the state police. On Saturday, August 30, the rodeo will be presented at Greensburg, on Labor Day, September 1 at Butler, and on Saturday, September 6th at New Castle.

By the time two rodeos have been put on the men will have their acts polished to a glossy sheen and the New Castle show promises to be an afternoon and evening of thrills.

Tickets are on sale now at the local barracks of the state motor police, or from members of the force, the New Castle Motor Club and during the New Castle Fair they can be purchased at the fair grounds.

Mark off Saturday afternoon or evening of September 6th. Get yourself a thrill of a lifetime and see the police officers do things on horseback that you always wanted to do yourself.

Former Employee Visits The News

Mrs. Arthur B. Kelley, of Goffstown, N. H., a former employee as bookkeeper at the New Castle News, is visiting in town, having arrived here for the Old Times Day event.

Mrs. Kelley, the former Helen Camblin, left the "News" thirty-four years ago. She is accompanied here by her husband, Arthur B. Kelley.

Roosevelt's hardest job is to get people pepped up for the war without making Wheeler think there will be one.

Deaths of the Day

Ellen Jeanette Wylie

Her many friends in the city were saddened today by the death of Ellen Jeanette Wylie, aged 25, of 513 West Madison avenue, who passed away Tuesday afternoon at 4:10 o'clock in the New Castle hospital after a short illness.

Miss Wylie was the popular daughter of Harry W. and Susan Clark Wylie. She was a member of the Mahoning Methodist church and of the various organizations of that church. Miss Wylie graduated from Bethany college in Bethany, W. Va., and was a member of Alpha Xi fraternity. She had spent all her life in Lawrence county and had been employed by the Pennsylvania Power Co.

Surviving are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Wylie; one brother Joseph, stationed at Brooks field, Advanced Flying station, Texas, and her grandfather, Joseph Clark of New Castle.

Funeral services are to be conducted from the late residence, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. D. J. Blaisdell, pastor of the Mahoning Methodist church, officiating. Interment will be in Union cemetery, New Galilee.

The body, removed to the Mahoning funeral home, will be taken to the residence late this afternoon.

Mrs. John Wainio

After an illness of three years' duration, Mrs. Augusta Wainio, aged 47, wife of John Wainio, 719 Superior street, passed away at the home this morning at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Wainio was born August 15, 1894, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Linna.

Surviving in addition to her husband, are the following children: Albert of New Castle, Francis of Baltimore, Md., Elmer of New Castle, Mrs. Edward Huff of New Castle; three grandchildren; one brother and one sister in Finland.

The body has been removed to the Joseph B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winder, where friends may call and where funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in charge of Rev. Einar W. Lehto, pastor of the Finnish Lutheran church. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

The family will be at the mortuary to receive friends Thursday and Friday evenings from 7 to 9 o'clock.

John C. Wagner

John C. Wagner, aged 63, of French Creek township, Venango county, died with a heart attack while at work on the state highway near Hannaville, Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock.

He leaves his wife, Loula; two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Kallenbaugh of Clark's Mills, Pa., and Mrs. H. H. Pierce of Pittsburgh.

Friends may call at the home where funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment will be in New Lebanon cemetery.

Henry Ott

Henry Ott, aged 84, passed away Tuesday at 10:25 p. m. at his home, Butler, R. D. 6. Mr. Ott formerly lived in the Chicago vicinity for many years and for a number of years was a resident of Castlewood, going to Butler two years ago.

He was a member of St. Paul's Reformed church, Sugar Creek.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. George Shaky, Mrs. H. G. Thompson, Mrs. Ellen McCune; two sons, Charles R. of Forestville, Harry E. of Castlewood; one brother, George of New Castle; two sisters, Mrs. Barber McCune of Butler, R.

Interment was in Oak Park cemetery.

MURDER-SUICIDE ENDS NEWLYWEDS

Anna Hancock, 17, a cousin of the dead woman and one of two eyewitnesses to the shooting, Fleming reported.

Betty Sullinger, 15, the dead man's sister, followed him from the Sullinger home in Smithtown and was standing behind him when he jerked the pistol from his shirt and opened fire.

"Mabel had mentioned a separation and he (Kenneth) told her no other man would get her. Betty told authorities.

Had Quarrel

The couple had quarreled considerably since Saturday, when they returned to the Sullinger residence after a stay in New York State. Fleming said he learned. They were wed June 27.

Anna said she and Mrs. Sullinger were sitting in the doorway of the Milton Hancock home, when the young wife had come to do some ironing, when Sullinger arrived.

"Kenneth came down and begged Mabel to go back to his father's home," Anna related. "She said to him, 'I told you I wasn't going back because you didn't treat me right when I was with you.'"

Sullinger pulled out his gun and Anna ran. She added: "He shot Mabel and shot at me." Betty said that Sullinger had been angry because his wife had "stayed out late" at a fireman's carnival in Black Lick. When he returned from work last night and found her not at home, he demanded to know where she was. Betty added, "I told him she was at Hancock's and then followed him down," she said.

Mrs. Sullinger was shot in the right chest, Sullinger through the heart. The woman lived about 15 minutes. He died in about five, the family reported.

such that traffic advanced at a snail's pace. Taxi-cabs did a land office business, refusing after a few hours to accept more calls. Kind-hearted motorists picked up many persons who stood on street corners.

It was estimated that 400,000 persons daily depend on DSR facilities for transportation to work and that an aggregate of 1,200,000 passengers are carried daily.

The DSR commission promised to attempt to restore service as soon as possible but not until it was established that public safety was not endangered.

Despite the general inconvenience the majority of workers in the downtown sector managed to arrive at their jobs in one manner or another and speedily began to arrange for transportation during the duration of the strike.

Cancels Furloughs

Detroit Police Superintendent Louis L. Berg cancelled all furloughs among state police officers and assigned every available man to strike duty in Detroit. Seeking more men the state police chief called in 49 probationary officers and armed them with night sticks.

All Detroit detectives were assigned to special strike duty and flying cars were held in readiness at each precinct station.

The strike was voted by about 1,000 members of Division 26 of the Amalgamated Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operations of America (AFL), apparently against the advice of union leaders.

Announcement of the strike vote was made by Thorald P. Wugor, president of Division 26 after a stormy session from which reporters were forcibly ejected.

Want Exclusive Right

"The strike" Wugor declared, "has been called to obtain the sole and exclusive bargaining rights for the DSR."

The AFL union has been the sole bargaining agent for the DSR for 40 years and has been enraged at the efforts of the CIO to gain those bargaining rights.

Wugor went on to point out that the officers of the union advised against this move, but the rank and file has demanded it.

Joseph Hayden, organizer for Local 312 of the United DSR workers (CIO), declared "our men are to be instructed to report for work as usual. This is not a legitimate strike for higher wages or any other just demand."

Nevertheless, the street cars and buses were idle.

An offer of the CIO to furnish men to operate the buses and cars was rejected by the DSR commission on the grounds violence might ensue.

TWO YEARS NEEDED TO DEFEAT NAZIS

against Germany throughout next year except for aerial attacks, and to prepare for a major British land offensive against the German army on the European continent in the spring of 1943.

It is recognized that this plan may be upset by any number of developments, such as a complete Russian collapse or a Japanese move in the Pacific, but it is understood to represent the basis on which the president and Mr. Churchill decided to chart their course pending events which cannot definitely be foreseen.

While Churchill does not feel that the British army will be strong enough to tackle the German army alone in a decisive military battle on the European continent next year, he is said to hope that the Nazis will be so weakened by the Russian campaign and the R. A. F. poundings that there may be a reasonable chance of launching a major British land offensive in 1943.

The British would like an American expeditionary force to participate in that offensive. Part of the world, like American troops to take over the defense of the British Isles and relieve the bulk of the British army for offensive action on the continent.

election of officers, and this question was settled in short order by unanimously re-electing all of the old officers, who served so well this past year.

They are: President, Mrs. Anna McGurk, vice president, Mrs. Ella Pollock, secretary, Miss Bessie Durant, treasurer, Ralph Ramsey, executive committee, Fred L. Rentz, Robert Whaley, Lou Genkinger and Jim Mayberry.

She then turned the meeting over to master of ceremonies, Jim Mayberry.

Master Of Ceremonies

Mr. Mayberry introduced the committee, who had helped to make the event so successful, grading them from the A class on down.

Former teachers were asked to stand, and there was a surprisingly large attendance of them. Those from out-of-town were also asked to stand and take a bow, which produced a large showing.

Former Councilman Louis G. Genkinger was introduced and spoke feelingly of the fine memories he had of his attendance at old Reynoldstown school, and of the great enjoyment he has of getting together at these reunions and greeting his schoolmates of those many days ago.

Others who spoke and who attended Reynoldstown school in very early days were O. H. P. Green, Fred B. Sankey and Sam Armstrong. Mr. Sankey invited the older folks to attend the Old Times Day reunion, which is taking place today at Cascade park.

Mrs. Carmi Glover recited a number of little intimate poems and stories affecting a number who were present.

Recalls First

Fred L. Rentz, past president of the association, recalled the first reunion which was held 33 years ago, and expressed his appreciation at the wonderful attendance of those who attended Reynoldstown at a later date besides the original old group.

Robert H. Whaley, who has attended every one of the 33 reunions which have been held, was introduced and took a bow. He was one of the oldest members present.

Charles E. Allen was talked upon and spoke for the younger group, after which the group concluded with the singing of the Star-Spangled Banner, led by George Fox.

Among those who were in attendance from outside the city were: Mr. and Mrs. John B. Trusel of Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Grace Gibson Bryant of Orlando, Fla.; and Mrs. Joseph Reynolds of Richmond Hills, N. Y.; Mrs. Fannie G. Trainer of Rochester, N. Y.; Mrs. Mae Deah Bruce, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McClelland, Mr. and Mrs. James McCune, Warren, O.; Cora B. Andrews, Midland, Pa.; Claire Cunningham Grinner, Wampum.

Margaret O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Marshall, Mrs. Bertha Reher, Aliquippa, Pa.; J. F. Kahner, Murial O'Neill Hanrahan, Mamie Ernst, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burns, Mrs. Fred E. Norton, Youngstown, O.; W. J. Howard, Cleveland, O.; Charles and Sally Schwab, Gary, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Moses, Bessemer, Mr. and Mrs. Sam W. Armstrong, Zelenople.

Mrs. Gillie Spencer Campbell, Mrs. Harriet Alexander, Mrs. Grace Campbell, Mrs. Agnes Welch Sharpville, Mrs. Idalia Nowling Diven, Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. G. Edwin Fout, Canfield, O.; Mrs. John Streator, Pittsburgh; Gertrude Smith, Mrs. Lillian Smith, Sewickley; Mrs. Grace Short Barnett, Wilkingsburg, and Alma Lusk Griffith, Niles, O.

With the attendance growing yearly since the younger folks who attended the school have been admitted to membership, and with an increasing list of names in the hands of the secretary, it is expected that next year's reunion will bring out an even greater attendance. At any rate, the committee is already starting to work with this end in view.

FLORIDIANS HONORED BY TUESDAY KENSINGTON

A dual purpose was served yesterday, when members of the Tuesday Kensington gathered with their husbands at the home of Mrs. W. H. Williams of Laurel Boulevard, to honor Mr. and Mrs. George Jones of St. Cloud, Florida, it being in the form of a farewell and also a golden wedding celebration.

The Floridians have been visiting in this vicinity for the past couple months, and they will leave within a few days for their Southern home. They formerly resided in New Castle and Mrs. Jones is also a member of the Tuesday Kensington, their hosts for the day.

A delicious luncheon menu was enjoyed at 1 o'clock as the highlight of the afternoon which was served at attractively appointed tables. Entertainment was found in music conversation and other avenues of diversion.

Special guests participating included Miss Mary Wood of Sharon and Mrs. C. F. Tilton of this city.

Aides to Mrs. Williams were Mrs. Ada Hayden, Miss Elizabeth Beer, Mrs. William Sterling, and Mrs. Frank Kelley.

The regular meeting of the group will take place on Tuesday, September 2, with Mrs. Hayden of Walmo, which too, will be in the nature of a luncheon.

Friendship Class

Members of the Friendship class of the Harbor U. P. church, held a corn and winter roast at the home of Charles Cox, of the Edinburg-Pulaski road.

Games and other events were enjoyed, and the tasty meal was cooked around the bonfire. Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Anderson of New Bedford, and Rev. K. W. McFarland and son, Russell, were special guests. Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Eckels, Mr. and Mrs. William Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. T. Seider, of Poland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cox, Mary and Margaret Hogan, and Olive Zeigler.

MISS STILLWAGON HONORED AT PARTY

A lovely party of Tuesday evening was that which took place in the home of Mrs. Jack Fulkerson on the Wilmington road, when she entertained informally for a group of friends, honoring Miss Helen Stillwagon, bride-elect of James Robinson.

The event was in the form of a shower, and at an appropriate time, the honoree was presented with an array of lovely gifts in behalf of the assemblage.

Contests filled in the early hours, and a series of prizes were awarded the winners. Lunch was a later pleasure, the tasty menu being served at a prettily appointed table, with the nuptial motif predominating. Aiding the hostess were Miss Betty Marshall and Mrs. Lawrence Kehna.

The bride-elect, daughter of Mrs. Marie Stillwagon of Allen street, has named September 3 for her marriage to James Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson of East Brook.

TIFEREH SISTERHOOD WILL PLAN CALENDAR

Members of Tifereth Israel Sisterhood, will launch their year activities, with their first initial meeting being slated for Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Synagogue. Plans will be outlined at this time, for their Fall calendar, and many interesting events are in the offing, it is learned.

On Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Sisterhood members together with their families and friends, will enjoy a basket picnic in the grove of Cascade Park, winding up their summer season. A large attendance is indicated.

MRS. ROY GRIFFITHS HOSTESS TO GROUP

Mrs. Roy Griffiths graciously opened her home on Addison street to members of the 1919 Kensington for their regular session Tuesday.

Games and contests provided the pastime, prizes going to Mrs. Charles McClelland and Mrs. Cecelia Young. At a suitable hour, a delicious repast was served at a prettily appointed table. Assisting the hostess were her two daughters, Charlotte and Irma.

In two weeks, Mrs. Agnes Lorenz will be hostess to the group in her home on Park avenue.

Parsonage Aid Society
Members of the Parsonage Aid society, Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church, enjoyed a tureen dinner at Cascade park Monday evening.

Twenty-two gathered for the event, and a delicious menu was served in the grove at 6:30. President Mrs. Leah Borovolis was in charge of a brief business meeting. Mrs. Lee Davis and daughter were special guests.

Next meeting of the group will be on September 15 at the parsonage.

SHOWER HONORS ESTHER DAVIDSON

A bride-elect of this month, Miss Esther Davidson was honored at a "kitchen shower", Tuesday evening, when Miss Thelma Thompson entertained, in her home on Florence avenue.

After presentation of many lovely gifts to the honoree, games were played. At an appropriate hour, the hostess served a dainty lunch.

Miss Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert F. Davidson, of the Youngstown road, will wed Lee W. McClenahan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McClenahan, of near New Bedford. The ceremony will be an open church wedding, performed at 5 o'clock, Friday afternoon, by the Rev. Robert Meade Patterson, in Central Presbyterian church.

NEWLYWEDS "AT HOME" AFTER AUGUST 25th

Mr. and Mrs. John Kerestly, nee Dorothy Louise Hartzell, will take up residence in their newly furnished apartment on Pine street, where they will be "at home" to friends after August 25, following their marriage, which took place on Saturday morning, August 16, at 10 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed in the Free Methodist church of Arlington avenue, with the Rev. P. C. Millard, pastor, officiating with the single ring service.

The bride, attired in a white embroidered marquisette over white satin gown, with veil of tulle, had as her matron of honor, Mrs. Ralph Hutchison of Sharon, who wore a formal yellow chiffon gown. Their bouquets harmonized.

Charles Kerestly served his brother as best man.

A wedding breakfast followed served at a tea room, and the couple are now on a trip to Niagara Falls, Canada and other points of interest.

Both attended the New Castle High School and he is employed at the Shenango Plant.

The couple has been honored at a series of parties and showers, and are the recipients of a collection of lovely and serviceable gifts.

MAROTTI-TOPPO DATE ANNOUNCED

Miss Rosalyn Marotti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Marotti, 721 Cunningham avenue, has chosen Tuesday, September 2, as her wedding date to Philip Toppo, son of Mrs. Concetta Toppo of Meadville. The ceremony will be performed in St. Joseph's church at 9:30 o'clock.

Miss Melba Marotti will be her sister's maid of honor and Vito Colello will serve as best man.

The sessions will convene in the William Penn Hotel, with Mrs. A. P. Vincent of Slippery Rock, who is president of the South Western District, in charge.

Plans for the approaching season will be outlined, and a detailed report will be given to the various affiliated clubs, by their leaders upon returning to their respective homes.

LOWERY GUILD HONORS BRIDE

Mrs. Vernon Hayden, the former Virginia Wilson and a bride of recent date, was honored by members of the Margaret Lowery Guild of Central Presbyterian church when they gathered for a wicker roast Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Loy, New Wilmington road.

Badminton provided the evening's chief diversion, after which there was a social period and the honoree was seated at a prettily arranged table loaded with numerous miscellaneous gifts for use in her new home. Later, the refreshments were served to the group. Miss Ruth McClafferty was the co-hostess, and Mrs. Pat Lawton was a special guest.

The group's next regular meeting will be September 16.

Shaffer Reunion

Decedents of the William A. Shaffer family gathered recently at the Mt. Carroll cottage in Wurttemberg.

A picnic dinner was served at noon with a large group in attendance, after which pictures were taken. Sports provided the pastime, prizes going to Richard and Harold Shaffer, Peggy Kennedy and Betty Johnson. At a later hour, a bonfire was built and the assemblage enjoyed toasted marshmallows and wieners. Committee in charge included Mrs. H. B. Shaffer and Mrs. H. E. Shaffer.

The next reunion will be held August 18, of next year, in the same place.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACH MORAL VALUE OF SAVING

When the federal tax program and the wider defense program, get under way, many parents will be forced to cut on expenditures for luxuries. Until then, some parents with better incomes than they had been accustomed to, will be tempted to spend lavishly on things they don't need.

Many girls wear finer clothes and many boys will buy cars on the installment plan. All too many parents will be giving their teen age boys and girls added money for good times.

Encouraged by their children, a good many parents will spend their extra earnings without much restraint or thought about the future. What is needed right now in the United States is a leadership among parents in economy and thrift, self-discipline in self-denials not immediately required of them.

Any parent who will reason knows very well that drab and depressing days lie ahead for him and his children and grandchildren. Acting wisely, he will put money aside from every pay check before any of it is spent or contracted for.

Self Denial
The most important value from any such self-denial by parents and children who have comparative abundance now is not in having something laid aside for lean years ahead. The really important values from doing so will be hidden inside these self-disciplined parents and their children. These unseen, intangible, spiritual values are investments which will surely bear rich dividends in days to come.

Now we need to invest in health, in medical and dental care; also in self-improvement.

Now is the time for boys and girls to continue in the public schools and for those who have left school too soon to go back. Now is the time for adults as well as youths, parents as well as children, to keep on learning, to set themselves to a plan of serious reading and study, to attend night school and, where no such school is available, to take home study courses from reliable correspondence schools.

Saving Desirable
How I wish I might persuade many young people now on jobs with good pay to invest a reasonable portion of their earnings in self-improvement. Any who will do so will while gaining skills and knowledge also gain what is worth still more immeasurable improvement in their moral character.

A selected list of good books for the teen aged and older youth to read for pleasure and profit may be had without cost, by writing me at 235 East 45th Street, N. Y. City, enclosing a self-addressed envelope with a three-cent stamp.

Solving Parent Problems
Q. Would you advise a person to take a correspondence course if a similar course is offered by a school or college within reach of his home?
A. No; by all means attend the school or college.

Q. If you were a parent who could speak a non-English language well would you teach this language to your children?
A. I certainly would after the age of three or four. Why rob him of the opportunity to speak two languages instead of just one? Why keep him from appreciation of the cultural backgrounds of his forebears? And why rob him and yourself of comradeship hardly acquired so well in any other way?

Just Folks

SAD MAN
The saddest man I ever knew Didn't have a task to do; Had enough for bed and board; All he needed could afford. So he sat around all day While the time just dragged away.

Had to rest and wasn't tired; Having all that he required. Didn't need to save and plan Like the ordinary man For a winter coat and hat. He was done with all of that.

Heard the factory whistles blow, Saw to work his neighbors go. Watched the merchant sell his wares, But he had no business cares; Had no tasks he had to do, Had no purpose to pursue.

All day long he sat about Lonely in the house or out. Friends were busy; all he knew Had to work the long day through. Muttered low from sun to sun: "Lafing isn't any fun!"

Daily Dozen

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

"Phantom limb" is a term unfamiliar to most persons.

It is familiar enough to those who have lost an arm or leg.

Following amputation there is a feeling of presence of the limb.

The term "sensory ghost" has also been used to describe the feeling.

This sensation may follow amputation of breast or loss of a tooth.

There is an associated pain following amputation of a limb.

It may incapacitate the patient and lead to drug addiction.

Pain in the stump of the lost limb may seem unbearable.

The pain is said to be of a burning, aching, cramping type.

Others describe it as crushing, twisting, grinding or tingling.

Physicians believe such pain is very often an obsession neurosis.

Treatment calls for psychotherapy—suggestion and reeducation.

London Newsmen Ahead Of Americans
Had Advance Word On Sea Conference
Correspondents Nettled Over Incident

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—According to accounts from London, newspapermen knew in advance all about the plan of Prime Minister Churchill and President Roosevelt for a conference at sea, but the British censor wouldn't let 'em publish it. In this country there's no censorship that could have prevented Washington's newspapermen from publishing whatever they pleased and they did publish their suspicions, but only suspicions were available; our capital's correspondent corps couldn't get anything definite until after the historic confab was all over.

Even then, apparently, the original intention was to let the news come initially from London. That is to say, a London cable received here on the afternoon of the same day that the meeting occurred, conveyed the information that Major Clement Atlee, British lord privy seal, was to broadcast a tremendously important announcement which Americans would do well to tune in on with their radios, at 9 a. m. Washington time, on Aug. 14 the day following the Roosevelt-Churchill get-togethers.

Well, evidently it occurred to somebody in the know, that it would be a little too raw for words to make the United States dependent upon London for first advances concerning OUR president's chat with Winnie Churchill on the former's so-called "vacation cruise."

Anyway, Presidential Private Secretary Steve Early scrambled hastily around and at midnight, Aug. 14-15 several hours after receipt of cabled tidings of the coming Atlee statement, notified the Washington correspondents that he'd have something vitally interesting to tell 'em at 8:30 in the morning—just in time to beat Atlee by about 30 minutes, though not soon enough to get into print with it ahead of Atlee's broadcast.

Correspondents Nettled

Of course extras were issued as fast as type could be set and presses could swish out the papers.

Nevertheless, I've heard some growing among Washington correspondents.

The boys' thesis is that Britain seems to be having a lot to say concerning American publicity which they consider is none of John Bull's business.

Illustratively, not long ago the war department circled Yankee military post commanders thusly: "The director of British censorship, western hemisphere has brought to the department's attention several letters written by United States army personnel to individuals in foreign countries in which mention was made of matters pertaining to military establishments. While the cases reported appeared to be the result of indiscretion, measures must be taken to cause this practice to be discontinued. All personnel of your command will be directed to omit all reference to matters pertaining to the national defense in personal letters written by them, especially to foreign countries."

Colonel William A. Smith, commander of Fort Devens, Mass., posted his copy of this circular on the fort's bulletin board, which is how it happened to get into the newspapers.

It wasn't played up very prominently at the time, but in connection with the Atlee matter, it's beginning to be considerably commented on by capital correspondents.

Resent British Angle

They don't take the position that care shouldn't be exercised relative to leaks that may be useful to potential enemies of Uncle Samuel, but they're decidedly resentful of the suggestion as coming from a BRITISH director of censorship.

Moreover, he's a director of the "WESTERN HEMISPHERE."

"Does that include the United States?" the scribes are asking. They've been urged to censorize themselves voluntarily and they're pretty good about doing it. There are a lot of things they can't find out, but when they do stumble upon something that needs hushing and they're requested to hush it, the generality of 'em acquiesce quite readily. But they want such REQUESTS, even to come from a Briton, censoring the western hemisphere.

Yeah, there's a good bit of Washington correspondential soreness over the submission of our news to Albion to edit for us.

A 375-pound stock-killing bear, known to have destroyed 26 sheep in one day, was recently caught in Wyoming by a hunter working for the fish and wildlife service of the U. S. department of the interior. It was found that 27 years earlier the bear, then a cub, had been roped and earmarked and the mark was still plain enough for the hunter to trace the story.

TRAFFIC TIPS AND QUIPS

O.K. ON THE SKYWAY....

Better learn to enjoy yourself. In so many places you find nothing else to enjoy.

Judge was hearing a case in court recently.

"Now will you tell us about your marital relations?" the judge asked.

"I had nothing against them at all," the prisoner explained. "That is, I didn't until they all moved in with me and expected me to run a free boarding house for them."

It was then that things happened that brought me before you."

The great trouble with loans is that they are made to fall due too soon.

SAME YESTERDAY, TODAY, AND

It is well to remember, perhaps, in this grim era of the straitjacket, that there have been other Hitlers, in other days—whose far-flung empires have fallen apart, and whose names are now simply something to trouble the student of history.

Conquerors must die, but love of liberty never dies. That is the lesson one can learn from history.

Napoleon died a prisoner, at St. Helena, at fifty-two. That, incidentally, is Hitler's age right now. Alexander died before he was thirty-four. Genghis Khan at sixty-five.

Each in his day, rattled his sword and dreamed of world conquest. Each, except for Genghis Khan, died comparatively young. And their worlds refused to stay conquered.

If there was freedom of the press in Nazi Germany, which of course there isn't, we would append the note: "Berlin papers, please copy!"

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)

BUFFALO—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, director of the office of civilian defense, talks of those who sneer and jeer at defense plans. "Let me tell you, they will be the first to get up a holler if anything should happen and we are not prepared."

NEW YORK—Billy Rose, Broadway showman, champions for plenty of building for the American armed forces.

"Building morale and making it palatable through an organized fun-for-fighters program is necessary as furnishing the boys with beans and bullets."

PRESCOTT, Ark.—Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear believes that many Americans have become soft and weak-minded.

"They are not willing to put out—they are willing to get but not give."

NEW YORK—Rev. Dr. Norman Peale, religious technical advisor to the movies, contends that Hollywood would turn out only high-standard pictures if backed by the public.

"If the public will support pictures of substance and quality, my opinion is that Hollywood will take new courage."

BIRTHDAYS OF FAMOUS AMERICANS

(Compiled by Encyclopedia Britannica)

AUGUST 20

1745—Francis Asbury, first Methodist Episcopal Church bishop consecrated in United States, at Handsworth, England. He came to America as a missionary at the age of 35. At that time there were fewer than 400 Methodists in America. When Asbury died in 1816 the church had about 214,000 members in the United States. He traveled on horseback between 5,000 and 6,000 miles every year during the term of his bishopric.

1833—Benjamin Harrison, 23rd President of the United States, at North Bend, O. He was a young lawyer in Indianapolis when the Civil War started. Entering the service as a second lieutenant of volunteers he rose to the rank of colonel and acted as commander of a brigade. After the war he became a distinguished lawyer and was elected to the Senate in 1881. He defeated Grover Cleveland for the Presidency in the campaign of 1888. His grandfather, William Henry Harrison, was 9th President of the United States.

1846—William Rutherford Mead, architect, at Brattleboro, Vt. He was a member of the firm of McKim, Mead and White architects, one of many famous university and municipal buildings, such as Boston public library, Columbia University, and Boston Institute of Arts and Sciences.

Bible Thought For Today

Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning—Psalms 30:5.

Hints On Etiquette

In writing a letter of thanks for entertainment, such as dinner and concert, etc., don't be too effusive. Simple and sincere thanks are much better than gush.

If feminists are insulted when required to make joint returns with their husbands, why not let husbands make joint returns with their wives?

"Robins are more numerous than any other birds in America"—Gov. bulletin. Have you checked on the birds who know what Hitler is planning next?

LET'S HAVE THE TRUTH

SOME of the men closest to the president are said to be insisting that he should go to the people now with a blunt appraisal of the international situation. The recent high seas conference with Prime Minister Winston Churchill was certainly called for a discussion of the situation and the American people are entitled to know what that situation is.

Too long has the country been fed a little of the truth at a time and usually this was somewhat sugar coated. The nation is asked to bond itself for generations to come to pay for a war not of our making and as yet not of our participation.

Our young men are being called to the colors daily, billions of dollars are being poured out for defense orders, private industry in many cases is hampered through priority rules on raw materials and now a committee of congressmen informs us that "lack of planning" has cost us $100,000,000 more than it should for the construction of army camps.

It's time to take the gloves off and deal with the situation as it really is, not as some of the New Deal theorists would have us believe it should be, not as it might be in the dim distant future. What is the situation now?

Americans have never been afraid to face realities and they will not flinch from hardship and sacrifice now if they can be convinced that it is in a just cause. Astronomical as the national debt now is, the American public will dig still deeper and cheerfully, if it can be shown that further debt is necessary to our own safety and preservation.

There has been too much equivocation already. Departmental heads in Washington are at loggerheads apparently jealous lest one department do something the other thought it should have done. Strikes are permitted to occur in vital defense industries with relative unimportant issues the cause.

The grumbling that is heard is not the grumbling of a people unwilling to face the problems of the day. It is the grumbling of a people that is beginning to believe that there is a lack of vision, a lack of courage and a lack of leadership.

It is time to have the truth and the President of the United States can supply the truth if he will. To refuse to tell the American people just what the situation is now is to breed more discontent.

WAR'S DEMANDS

In demanding a rapid increase in the nation's high octane gasoline refining capacity, a development in which the American oil industry has led the world and for which but a short time ago the nation was believed to have more than adequate capacity to meet all possible needs, government officials are discovering still another field in which war demands are far greater than they had believed possible.

Failure to make early provision for increased aluminum production capacity has been perhaps the government's greatest mistake thus far in its preparations for war. But supplies of other metals, notably zinc, are proving inadequate, too, and lack of scrap iron, until a short time ago exported to Japan in large quantities, now threatens to shut down steel mills in the East.

Magnitude of modern war's demands for raw materials and processing equipment is being realized slowly by government officials. Among the general public sacrifices which America's limited participation in the present conflict will demand have not been dreamed of, as it witnessed by failure of the motoring public of Eastern states to respond to pleas for conservation of gasoline.

The American oil industry is better equipped to meet emergency demands for increased production than almost any other phase of the nation's economy. Greater refining capacity for high octane fuel should soon be provided.

DON'T FORGET FREEDOM

For more than 150 years Americans have lived in an atmosphere so permeated by individual rights that it is extremely difficult for an American citizen to conceive how any human being can live otherwise. Only by bringing home to an American the personal tragedies in the rest of the world is he reminded that here, and almost only here, can man live his life as he chooses.

The right to say each day what we please about our government and our country, the right to read in our newspapers the news we want to know, the right to worship our God in our own manner are rights all Americans enjoy. We are not constrained as are people in other lands to obey without question. We are free to think because this freedom is guaranteed to us by our Federal Constitution.

Far too often these rights, which are considered inalienable by Americans, are taken for granted. Far too often we forget the blood which was shed that we might have this freedom. It is hard to remember in a peace-loving and prosperous country that our democracy is based on the individual, with governmental controls existing for the benefit of the majority, but with guarantees of freedom of expression for the minority.

That is the kind of government for which Americans need be not only willing to die, but willing to live in order to preserve, willing to fight for that it may continue here. Only by safeguarding liberty for thinking and expressing each individual's mind can America continue a progressive, positive democracy, leading the world.

Evanoski-Sylak

SS. Philip and James Church was the scene of a lovely wedding at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when Miss Bernice Evanoski of Beckford street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Evanoski, became the bride of Henry Sylak, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sylak, of McDonald, O. Rev. Fr. V. V. Stancilewski officiated before an altar banked with ferns, palms and gladioli. Miss Marie Dutkiewicz, church organist, played a program of nuptial music.

The bride wore a gown of white embroidered mousseline de soie, made en train, with a sweetheart neckline and long, tight sleeves. Her tulle veil, falling from a crown, was caught with orange blossoms, and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses, centered with Madonna lilies. Her only jewelry was a gold cross given her by the bridegroom.

Miss Stella Sylak of Washington, D. C., a sister of the groom, served as maid of honor, wearing a yellow mousseline de soie frock, patterned with a floral design. A tiered veil of roses in her hair matched her bouquet of gladioli.

Bridesmaids were Miss Henrietta Daskocz, of Beaver Falls, Miss Jennie Sylak, of McDonald, O., Miss Polly Wolanin and Miss Josephine Kubinski. They were dressed alike in gowns of blue taffeta.

Rudy Cregap of McDonald, O., served as best man, and ushers Edward Evanoski and Joe Evanoski, brothers of the bride, and Stanley Smutz and Edward Cregap of McDonald, O.

After the ceremony, a wedding dinner and reception was held in the bride's home. Immediately afterwards, Mr. and Mrs. Sylak left on a week's honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will reside in Youngstown, O.

Shower Held

Mrs. Lois Rainey Fisher entertained with a handkerchief shower in her home, Highland avenue, Tuesday evening, in honor of her sister, Mrs. E. T. Kuhner, who leaves shortly to join her husband, Sgt. Kuhner, stationed in Mississippi.

A dainty lunch was served by the hostess following an evening of games and sewing.

Kendra-Serwatka

Dairymen To Gather Friday

Annual Picnic Of District Association Will Draw Throng To Grove City

GOOD PROGRAM HAS BEEN PLANNED

Friday's annual picnic of District Unit No. 9 of the D. C. S. A., composed of dairymen from the central counties of Western Pennsylvania, is expected to prove one of the finest yet held.

The committee in charge of the arrangements has striven to arrange a program which will provide enjoyment for everyone attending, and have announced the following itinerary for the day:

Dairy cattle judging contest for boys and girls, 18 years of age and under, at 10:30 a. m. Official placings will be made by Frank Miller, agriculture extension agent of Clarion county.

The contest will consist of placing three classes of cattle with four individuals in each class. The winner will be awarded a two-day trip to the Columbus State Fair with all expenses paid by the D. C. S. A.

Basket picnic at noon, free ice cream, coffee and buttermilk will be served by the district unit.

Swimming in the park pool. Milk production guessing contest for everyone.

Sports for the children. Milking contest for boys 12 to 15 years of age inclusive.

The attendance at this, the third annual picnic of District Unit G of the D. C. S. A. is expected to far exceed that of the previous picnics.

The accommodations at Grove City park are excellent with tables under shelter to seat about a thousand people.

DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENT

repulsed strong counter-attacks on the central front with heavy enemy losses.

London heard reports that Marshal Semyon Budenny, defending the Ukraine, had left thousands of his troops on the west bank of the Dnieper to get across as best they could while rushing his main army across the river to man new defense lines.

King In London
Canadian Premier W. L. Mackenzie King arrived in London for conferences with Prime Minister Winston Churchill and other leaders after flying across the Atlantic in a bomber.

Germany said that Nazi big guns have been brought within range of Leningrad's outskirts, while on the Ukraine front reinforcements were being massed for the titanic battle of the Dnieper River.

Moscow admitted that Leningrad was being menaced from a new direction, based on Novgorod, 100 miles southeast of the former capital. Russia said also that fighting suddenly was revived in the Gomei sector of the south central front.

Everywhere the war maintained a relentless pace. The Germans said the comparative lull in the Ukraine was intended only to permit bringing up of reinforcements, and stressing that the Russians would be given no time to rally.

Nor was there any respite in the air. In London the air ministry announced that the R. A. F. again attacked northwestern Germany during the night.

Some German raiders swept inland over Britain, and dropped bombs at scattered points Berlin said the R. A. F. lost 31 planes yesterday.

Washington Busy
Washington hummed with defense activities. President Roosevelt set under way a campaign to make the American public realize that sacrifices ties necessary if the aggressor nations are to be halted.

In the ears of the American people echoed the president's warning that all face "hard, tough fighting that will hurt somebody." He envisioned a war that will continue through 1943.

Official quarters in Washington indicated that Mr. Roosevelt and his Minister Churchill in their meeting at sea worked out comprehensive war program for the next two years. Main points were said to be encouragement to Russia by all practical means to hold out against Germany through the winter; continued aid to China; isolation of Japan, and increased assistance to Britain.

Presidential advisors, Washington heard also, are canvassing the possibility of a large loan to Russia to finance purchase of war supplies in the United States.

Japan continued efforts to maintain peace with Russia. Tokyo announced that on Sept. 22 Manchukuo and Outer Mongolia would sign an agreement ending their old border dispute. Manchukuo is dominated by Japan and Outer Mongolia is under Soviet influence. Repeatedly the border has been the scene of Russo-Japanese clashes. So Tokyo regarded the agreement as a sign of improvement in relations with Moscow.

GERMANS ADVANCE TO DNEIPER BANKS

of Leningrad, the Germans announced, the Luftwaffe bombed and broke up railroad lines and bombed and machine-gunned Red forces.

As fighting was resumed on a large scale on the Leningrad front, the Germans said a new phase was developing in the south.

Germany's dust-begrimed blitz troops, facing the surviving remnants of the southern Soviet army along a thousand-mile "wet front," today gathered reinforcements before attempting to cross the Dnieper river engulf the rich eastern Ukraine.

Huge Area
Behind the Germans lay an area more than three times the size of Belgium, strewn, according to German estimates, with one million Russian casualties. Before the Nazis was a formidable new Russian line, with the forces on both sides of the Dnieper massing for a final gigantic struggle for the east Ukraine, and the rich industrial Don river basin.

German military authorities today estimated that since August 6, when the drive into the Ukraine began in earnest, the Soviet slain amounted to three times, and in some places six or ten times, the number of prisoners taken.

Ten days ago the titanic battle had taken a toll of 100,000 Russians prisoners and 200,000 slain Reds, according to Nazi estimates, so it was believed that the Russian dead now would number close to one million.

Although there admittedly is a lull in the German campaign, which already has swept Chancellor Hitler's arm to the banks of the Dnieper and the shores of the Black Sea, indications in Berlin were that there is little chance that Marshal Semyon Budenny's battered soldiers will be given a chance to rest and rally.

Lively fighting still raged in some sectors west of the bend of the Dnieper, particularly around Dnepropetrovsk, where the Reds were said to be endeavoring to salvage as much as possible of their armies by hastening them across the huge American-built power dam there.

But at Dnepropetrovsk as well as isolated and beleaguered Odessa the German air force kept up ceaseless attacks which added heavily to the Russian losses.

Ahepa Sets Up New Pan Hellenic Group

Cincinnati Conclave Votes Its Creation To Help Refugees

(Special To The News)
CINCINNATI, Aug. 20.—Creation of a new organization called "The Pan Hellenic Federation of America" was voted here today by the annual convention of the American Hellenic Educational and Progressive Association (better known as Ahepa).

The aims and purposes of the new organization is to seek ways and means to collect more funds in the future to rehabilitate the stricken civilians who were forced to leave their homes and become refugees in all parts of Europe. The organization is to be permanently constituted in all parts of America and in all other countries where the Greek population exists.

New Castle Ahepas are represented at the conclave by Peter Brown.

CANVAS CONGRESS ON LOAN PROPOSAL

with the consent of the United States, divert some of it for Russian use. If this latter method is utilized Britain, would, in effect, be a "co-signer" of obligations incurred by her ally, Russia, in prosecuting the war against Germany.

This official indicated that the modus operandi of getting guns, planes, and munitions to the Russo-Germany battle front would be worked out at the forth-coming three-power conference in Moscow, and expected that the loan arrangement, if finally decided upon, would be announced in Washington shortly afterwards.

While the Reconstruction Finance corporation is the federal agency most likely to negotiate the loan, he cautioned that the $2,000,000,000 treasury stabilization fund should not be overlooked as a possible source of this fund. He also suggested that discretionary funds of the President, authorized by Congress, might also be used to aid Russia in instances where complete secrecy on specific Russian need is essential.

Latest reports from Germany confirm the general suspicion that bombing isn't nearly so much fun when you're taking it.

Roosevelt Will Leave Thursday For Hyde Park

President Will Be Host To Duke Of Kent On Saturday At Hyde Park

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—President Roosevelt will leave for his Hyde Park, N. Y. home late tomorrow to receive and entertain another noted Englishman, the Duke of Kent, younger brother of King George VI.

The Duke, who has been touring Canada will arrive at the Hudson Valley estate on Saturday and remain until Sunday evening when both he and the President will return to Washington.

Today, the President received Alfred Duff-Cooper, British minister without portfolio, who is now on his way to the Orient. Cooper was accompanied by Sir Ronald Campbell, British minister and acting ambassador in the absence of Lord Halifax.

The President's series of conferences with the British began with his dramatic three-day meeting at sea with Prime Minister Winston Churchill and continued yesterday when he had Lord Beaverbrook, British minister of supply, as a luncheon guest.

NIGHT FAIR CROWD SETS NEW RECORD

the two-night horse pulling contests is scheduled to take place in front of the grandstand. The thrilling pulling event, stellar attraction of the fair, always "picks 'em in."

Gates of the annual exhibition opened Tuesday at noon and will close Thursday at midnight.

Judging of entries—cattle, household articles and others—has commenced and within a day or so judges' decisions will be announced. Today saw prize livestock on parade before cattle judges who know their subject. They are the men who bestow the coveted ribbons.

Races Today, Tomorrow

Harness racing, perhaps the most popular feature of the fair, opened this afternoon, and winds up with racing Thursday afternoon. Experienced horsemen said the track is in excellent shape for the running.

Like in all years, political candidates mingled with the crowds that walked the mid-way and inspected the concessions and various displays.

Down at the American Red Cross emergency station, open all the time, the accidents recorded listed were only minor ones.

Children under 12 years of age, it was stressed, are being admitted free of charge.

The fair opens for its final day Thursday at 7 a. m. and will continue late.

The present population of the earth is about two billions. Most authorities have agreed that the maximum population the earth can support is 12 billions. This is assuming that one and a half acres are sufficient to support one person and taking into consideration future scientific inventions.

Denies Army Morale Anything But Best

Lieutenant General Ben Lear Speaks For Army In Southwest Maneuvers

Says Public Morale Has Lot To Do With Way Army Soldiers Perform

(International News Service) PRESCOTT, Ark., Aug. 20.—Charges that America's new army suffers from poor morale drew prompt and in some instances angry denial today from ranking officials of the second and third armies, gathered in the Southwest for gigantic maneuvers starting next month.

Most emphatic in defense of the army was Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear, commander of the Second army, who denied there was anything lacking in the morale of his men but added:

"If the army morale is low... it is because the morale of the people is poor. Many of our people have grown soft through years of easy living. They are weak-minded, some of them, and they don't want to put out. If the army is soft, so is the nation."

Lieut. Gen. Walter Krueger, commander of the Third army, declared he is proud of his men and said "the public would be, too, if they knew of the problems these soldiers have solved uncomplainingly."

"I have talked to more than 200,000 men," General Krueger added, "and found morale at the highest—no crabbiness. Each man is proud of his outfit, and they are ready to shoot the works."

Asks For Patience
Lieut. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, chief of staff of the Third army, asked that the public be patient in its demands on the army.

"We yelled for 20 years to the people and the press," he asserted. "You shortchanged us during that time, but now you want an adequate army in one year. Be patient, please."

Division commanders were unanimous in praise of their men. Maj. Gen. Truman, commanding the 35th Division of troops from Kansas, Nebraska and Missouri, commented: "I don't know about the rest of the army, but I do know that my own division has particularly high morale. This I attribute to the 150 newspaper reporters I have in my division who correspond with their home papers. Thus the folks at home are kept informed of what is going on in the division. They have an understanding and when the folks at home know what's going on and are satisfied, then the troops in the field are contented, too."

Combat Efficiency
Maj. Gen. Samuel T. Lawton, commander of the 33rd division, Illinois, lauded his men as an efficient fighting force. He said: "Morale is combat efficiency. If troops have been well trained to fight—if necessary—they have good morale automatically. That is what's happened with my troops. They have trained rigorously. They can produce. They know it. They're proud of that ability and they don't talk about 'going over the hill' in October."

Maj. Gen. William Haskell, commanding New York's Fighting 27th, said of his command:

"This is the same division that was lauded so highly at the end of the Tennessee maneuvers for its fine morale. It is the same division. There has been no change."

Lincoln School Reunion Date Has Been Established

Former Pupils Will Gather At School On Thursday, September 4

Announcement is made of the annual reunion of the old Lincoln school, known as the Slabtown school in its heyday, which will take place at the Lincoln school building on Thursday evening, September 4.

The pupils will gather at the building early in the evening, and later, will assemble inside the school for a program, following which refreshments will be served.

The permanent officers of the Lincoln School Association, are: president, Harry J. Clark; vice president, Hon. R. L. Hildebrand; secretary, James P. Ball; and treasurer, Margaret Patterson Clark.

The refreshment committee is composed of: Victor Smith, Mrs. Ben Hoover, Harry Barber, and Harry "Doc" McBride, with Mrs. Scott B. Hamilton as chairman of the publicity committee.

Members of the executive committee will announce the names of the reception committee at a later date and will also outline the program which has been planned for the occasion.

One of the features planned this year is to have as many of the former teachers at the school back for the reunion as are able to attend, and the committee is putting forth extra efforts along this line.

Kids May Pay Higher Prices

Mounting Food Costs May Result In Increase In School Cafeterias

Climbing food costs may tag a cent or so onto the prices of dinner items in New Castle school cafeterias this coming term, but "a good fair trial" of operating on present price levels is promised before any adjustment comes.

Noting the upward trend in costs, Mrs. Rachel P. Taylor, supervisor of cafeterias, called school authorities attention to the matter and inquired if action was desired.

School officials said the Board of Education is for a "thorough test" of operating the dining halls on past price schedules for a month or two after opening. If losses occur, then a change must come.

The cafeterias are operated to break even—to bring in only enough to cover costs—and are not expected to show profits.

Youngster Has Very Close Call

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—A bruise on his hip was 11-year-old Russell Barringer's only visible reminder today of a narrow brush with death.

While playing with other boys near his Stowe township home Monday night, the youth slipped between the wheels of a Sewickley street car. The motorman slammed on his brakes immediately, and the wheels did not touch him.

Roosevelt Urges Safety Campaign

Traffic Fatalities 17 Percent Higher Than In 1940 Survey Shows

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—President Roosevelt today called upon the people of the nation to join in an intensified campaign against accidents, pointing out that so far this year traffic fatalities have increased 17 percent above 1940.

In a proclamation urging "a national safety campaign" the President said:

"The nation is confronted with a rapidly rising accident toll. At the present rate, the total number of deaths from accidents this year will exceed 100,000. Traffic accidents alone caused 34,500 deaths in 1940 and thus far in the present year there has been an increase of 17 percent in traffic fatalities."

"By taking a huge toll in life and property, accidents definitely hinder our national defense effort. To insure maximum efficiency we must have maximum safety twenty-four hours a day—not only at work, but also on the highway, at home, everywhere."

"The troubled times in which we live must not make us callous or indifferent to human suffering. These unusual times require unusual safety efforts."

Salvation Army Officers Return From Maine Trip

Captain and Mrs. Carl Andreassen, officers-in-charge of the New Castle Salvation Army Corps returned to their duties this morning from a vacation trip to Maine.

Captain and Mrs. Andreassen were on a two weeks camping trip, and while away the local corps officers attended an annual convention of the Salvation Army that was held in Maine.

Cuban Police To Hunt Terrorists

(International News Service) HAVANNA, Aug. 20.—President Fulgencio Batista on Tuesday ordered "sternest measures" to be taken in a nation-wide hunt for the terrorists who Monday night exploded five bombs in Havana, injuring 15 persons.

In an apparently well-planned campaign, the bombings burst windows in down-town buildings, terrifying patrons of nearby cafes. Under orders to shoot bombers on sight, police sent cars crowds home and searched all cars entering or leaving Havana.

Dr. Heiser says the ancient cure for scrofula was to kiss seven virgin daughters of one mother. So many of the old cures are hard to find now.

The recreation program for convalescent soldiers in Army camps is assigned to the Red Cross under Army regulations, Mr. Davis said. Buildings will be equipped with facilities for games, reading, cards and other forms of diversion and will serve also as headquarters for visiting relatives.

Red Cross field directors, assisted by medical-social workers and volunteer "Gray Ladies" from nearby chapters, will conduct the program. Although the Red Cross will staff and provide furnishings for the centers, the Army is bearing the expense of their erection. Sixty-three of the centers are being constructed in the United States and one each in Puerto Rico and Alaska.

Red Cross Will Equip Theaters For Army Usage

Equipment Included In Centers Planned In 65 Army Camps Of Country

The American Red Cross will operate standard sound motion picture theaters in its hospital recreation buildings now under construction in 65 Army camps, it was announced by Chairman R. F. Davis.

The Red Cross buildings will contain theaters with a seating capacity ranging from 145 to 500 persons. There will be two to three program changes each week with showings of popular movies and training film at the discretion of hospital commanding officers.

Attendance at the Red Cross theaters will be free and limited to convalescents and such other military personnel as required for their care it was pointed out.

The recreation program for convalescent soldiers in Army camps is assigned to the Red Cross under Army regulations, Mr. Davis said. Buildings will be equipped with facilities for games, reading, cards and other forms of diversion and will serve also as headquarters for visiting relatives.

Cruise 250 Miles On Auto Tire Tubes

Portland Youths Tour Rivers Of Native State In Novel Manner

(International News Service) PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 20.—The old nursery rhyme about "three men in a tub" is not far removed from the two youths from Los Angeles who navigated the Yakima and Columbia rivers 250 miles in swimming trunks and a pair of automobile tire inner tubes.

The adventurers, Robert Chester Smith 19, and Fletcher Chesbro, 19, made the strange cruise from Sunnyside, Wash., to Vancouver, Wash., making portages only around Celilo Falls and Bonneville dam.

They didn't do it for glory or publicity. They did it in the spirit of Halliburton. "Halliburton didn't let life grow dull," Smith explained. Both admitted that life was far from dull as they drifted along with Old Man River.

"There was a time in the Umatilla rapids when we just hung on and hoped," Chesbro recalled. "All we could do was to fight off the rocks and take the drops while the white water curled over our heads."

The swimming jaunt got off to a discouraging start when, a broiling sun cooked them a lobster-red the first day out. They were practically paralyzed with sunburn. It took them 10 days to recover, nursing themselves in an old shack near Klone, Wash., while living on milk and dried apricots.

The going was easy after that until they slipped from the warm sluggish Yakima into the icy Columbia.

Badly Decomposed Body Of Man Is Found In House

(International News Service) TOWANDA, Pa., Aug. 20.—Susquehanna county authorities Tuesday identified a badly decomposed body of a man, found in a house on an isolated hill top near the Bradford county line, as that of Harry Herman, 57, of Rushville.

Residents of that section originally identified the body as that of Floyd Knapp. Herman's son by a previous marriage and an undertaker had removed it to Montrose for autopsy and burial before Herman's wife established the true identity.

Meanwhile, authorities were mystified by reports that a lighted kerosene lamp was seen in the house supposedly occupied only by the body of a man dead at least a week. The light was noticed by Herman's brother, Stanley, Sunday night. Dr. F. S. Birchard said there were no signs of violence about the body.

Bury Six Victims In Fire Tragedy

(International News Service) PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., Aug. 20.—Funeral services for the six children-victims of the explosion and fire that destroyed the Merit Bush home eight miles southwest of this city will be held today in the Ebenezer church, near the scene, it was disclosed.

The bodies, each in a tiny casket will be interred in the church cemetery.

Gas Conserving Committee Named

Five-Man Committee Named In Pennsylvania To Organize Gasoline Conservation

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Aug. 20.—A five-man "not over 40 M. P. H." committee today was named by Dr. Arnold C. Marts, executive director of the state defense council, to organize a drive to conserve gasoline.

The committee includes W. Purvis Taylor, secretary of the Associated Petroleum Industries of Pennsylvania; Richard B. Maxwell, executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation; J. Maxwell Smith, Keystone Automobile Club; Edward Gogolin, Pennsylvania Motor Truck Federation; and Capt. T. N. Boate, Pennsylvania Motor Police.

The committee will chart definite plans for a drive to reduce speeds on the state highways in an effort to decrease gasoline consumption by one-third.

40-Mile Limit
Gov. Arthur H. James has already ordered drivers of all state-owned vehicles not to exceed the 40-mile-per-hour voluntary speed limit set by Federal Oil Coordinator Harold L. Ickes, and Guy K. Haslet, the state's liaison officer with the federal government, was directed to go to Washington today to ascertain details of the campaign.

Meanwhile, a sample lot of "not over 40 M. P. H." windshield stickers arrived from Washington for general distribution to state motorists. Permission to place the stickers on windshields was granted yesterday by Acting Secretary of Revenue Walter J. Krueger. The legal speed limit in Pennsylvania is 50 miles an hour.

Watts Family Thanks Red Cross

Assistance Given During Stay Of Injured Trooper In Hospital Appreciated

Miss Margaret F. Bodenstein, executive secretary of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, is in receipt of the following letter:

Bloomsburg, Penna.
R. D. No. 5
August 18, 1941.

Dear Miss Bodenstein:
We would like to thank you personally and the other members of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, for the kindness and helpfulness and the many other things you have done for our son, Donald J. Watts.

I am very sorry that I did not write you before. I have heard from Donald and everything is just fine. Well, thank you again for all the duties you have performed for all of us.

We remain,
MR. AND MRS. JOHN WATTS
AND FAMILY.

Portersville Church To Have Home-Coming Day

Portersville United Presbyterian church is planning a homecoming day for Sunday, August 24. A communion service will be held at 11 a. m. hour, with a fellowship worship planned for 2:30 p. m., and a Young People's service at 8 p. m.

Former pastors will preach on Friday evening, August 22, Sunday morning and afternoon, and two young women of the church will address the evening congregation. There will be special music by the church choir, a mixed, a women's and male quartet.

All former members and friends of the church are being invited to attend, along with present members and friends. Visitors will be welcome to picnic on the church grounds.

A number of wills have recently been filed for probate in the office of Register and Recorder Orville Potter.

Under the will of William J. Sweeney, late of the Fourth ward, the estate is left to his wife Rosa E. Sweeney, sometimes known as Rose E. Sweeney.

Under the terms of the will of Frances H. Kahn, her estate is left to her daughter Florence, to be divided among the other children as she sees fit.

The will of Lula G. Gallagher, wife of William Gallagher, of Allegheny county, provides that the sum of $250 be set aside for the purpose of erecting a monument to the memory of her first husband, D. H. Riddle. To her brother, Charles C. Park and sister, Sarah M. Park, is left the sum of $1,000 each, and to her sister Sarah, all jewelry except her wedding ring and diamond ring. The residue goes to her husband, William Gallagher, who is named executor.

The will of Allan Wood Smith, formerly of Ellwood City, and late of New Wilmington, under its original terms bequeathed to his wife, Irma Hays Smith, all of the estate except 200 shares of Aetna Standard Engineering Corporation stock; 10 shares of stock in the First National Bank, of Girard, O.; and 80 shares of stock in the Ellwood City Building and Loan Company.

To his son Raymond, is given his Cadillac automobile, or such other automobile as he possesses at death; and to his daughter Sara Jayne, his La Salle auto, or such other second auto as he possesses; to his son Raymond, all his personal effects and 50 shares of Aetna Standard Engineering Corp. stock; 2 1/2 shares of First National Bank of Girard stock; and 20 shares of the Ellwood City Building and Loan, subject to the life estate of his wife; to a daughter Emma D. Lapinska, a like amount subject to the same provisions; to a grandson, Allan Wood Smith, a like amount; and to his daughter, Sarah Jayne a like amount.

The rest of his estate, he bequeathed to his daughter, Sara Jayne Smith. Changes were made in the original will, following the death of his wife, Irma Jayne Smith, in January 1935, when a codicil was added which set up a trust estate, in addition to the previous provisions as to his children of all monies in various banks; which was to provide the sum of $300 quarterly for his daughter, Sara Jayne Smith, and if that is not sufficient enough shall be taken from the principal sum to provide this amount, until she reaches the age of 40 years, when the principal of the trust estate shall go to her or her heirs.

The will of Cleo M. Guy, late of Chewton, provides that her son Ellis Guy be named executor, who is bequeathed the home in Chewton, but provides that her husband W. P. Guy shall have it as a residence until his death. To Evanelle Guy, a daughter of Ellis Guy, is given a gold chain and locket, ruby ring, and vanity dresser; to a son Leslie, the sum of $100; to Mary Ann Guy, daughter of Leslie, is given a watch, bracelet, and wedding ring; and to Lillian Guy Reinhardt, a peony quilt, pearl brooch, album, genealogy book, and other books, pictures and embroidery; to Paul Reinhardt, her field glasses, camera and chifonier; and to Lillie J. Sprinker, all her dresses.

In the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts Edgar, a number of actions have been filed:

Dewitt L. Ueber and Ida M. Ueber, his wife, has filed an amicable action and confession of judgment in ejectment against Stanley Kosin, Jr., and Agnes, his wife, to recover possession of a property in South New Castle Boro.

W. J. Anderton, receiver for the Continental Refining Co. has filed a suit in trespass against Olin W. Hartung, claiming damages in the sum of $715.50 with interest from May 19, 1941, growing out of an automobile accident on Route 18, at Newport, Lawrence county, when the car of Hartung is alleged to have swerved from the road and struck a set of gasoline pumps in front of the gasoline station operated by John C. Newton, causing damage to them in the sum mentioned above.

Frank Wojciechowski, Jr., has filed a libel in divorce against Victoria Wojciechowski, charging desertion. They were married on April 21, 1930 in Pittsburgh, and lived together until August 1, 1937. The libellant claims that he went to New York, seeking work, and was informed that his wife had moved all furniture and personal belongings from their home, and has continued to reside away from him since that date.

Stephen A. Binder has filed suit against Elizabeth Irene Binder, charging desertion. They were married in Butler, December 2, 1931, and he charges that she deserted him on February 23, 1940. The address of the libellant is given as 520 1/2 W. 14th street, and the respondent, 114 North Jefferson street.

The New Castle Mutual Building and Loan Association for the use of the First Federal Savings and Loan association, has filed a praecipe for scire facias sur mortgage against Bessie M. Gusk, administrator of the estate of Harry Rosenblum, and Bessie M. Gusk, Rebecca R. Cohn, Alex Rosenblum, Dorothy Setlin, Mollie Blum, and Abe Rosenblum, to recover a debt of $5,641.45.

Perry S. McCune has filed an amicable action and confession of judgment in ejectment against Herman Johnston and Margaret Johnston, his wife, to recover possession of property at 1033 Maryland avenue, New Castle.

Although splitting seconds is "old stuff" to experts employed by the Hamilton Watch Co., which was assigned to produce the instruments, a contract for 250 chronometers with an option for 250 more was enough to excite veteran watchmakers.

Up to the time Germany began raising a barrier around the European Continent, Switzerland was the world's principal manufacturer of precision instruments, so essential to the exactness of navigation.

When Uncle Sam's expanding two-ocean navy began calling for more and more instruments, the government bought up the chronometers displayed in jewelry store windows as show pieces.

The supply was inadequate, however, officials found, and negotiations were entered into with American watch manufacturers for additional ones.

From the naval observatory in Washington, the Lancaster firm borrowed ideas from 50 different chronometers and engineers applied them to principles used in manufacturing 400,000 watches a year.

Contract for the instruments was awarded in May but the initial delivery will not be made before next year. The company eventually will be turning out at least 10 chronometers monthly, costing between $550 and $600 apiece.

Workers are determined that the American product will equal or better the instruments produced in Switzerland. In addition to the precision instruments, each containing 200 distinct parts, the company also has contracted to deliver 1,000 "chronometer watches" built to withstand wear and tear aboard mosquito boats and other swift-moving naval vessels.

To enable the concern to keep pace with defense orders, which also call for 7,000 map measures, the firm is constructing two new buildings costing $425,000.

BE PATRIOTIC BUT—QUIETLY
(International News Service)

ERIE, Pa.—Patriotism is a fine thing but, please—easy on the horn!

Residents in the vicinity of the Sky-Way Drive-in theatre near the Port Erie airport recently petitioned that the outdoor movie be closed because of the "great annoyance between the hours of 8:30 p. m. and 1 a. m." The noise referred to was the blowing of automobile horns when the American flag was shown at the beginning of each performance, the theatre management explained.

The management announced that unless the audiences curtailed their zeal in this respect, the playing of the national anthem and displaying of the American flag at each performance would be discontinued.

CHINA CITY REVIVES
SHANGHAI—Nantao, China, is rapidly recovering its prosperity with the increase of population and the rehabilitation of war-torn areas. The population now is about 202,000. During pre-war days it was more than double that figure. The health authorities have been ordered to re-establish the municipal hospital. Meantime, an old hospital will be repaired and used.

British Announce Sinking Of Ship In Mediterranean
(International News Service)

CAIRO, Aug. 20.—Swordfish torpedo planes of the Fleet Air Arm were credited with sinking a 6,000-ton enemy ship in the central Mediterranean Monday night, the middle east command announced Tuesday.

The ship was one of a convoy of five large merchant ships and a tanker, escorted by six destroyers, it was said.

A second merchant ship was torpedoed later and was beached. Bristol-Belenheim bombers then attacked this ship and set it afire with incendiary bombs.

American-built Curtiss Tomahawks were credited with driving off large squadrons of Messerschmitt 109's and 110's as the German planes attempted to attack shipping off the Egyptian coast Monday.

In all operations, two British planes were lost.

FOOLS THE DOCTOR
SACRAMENTO, Calif. — Albert Moynier celebrated another birthday while the requests of 62 doctors throughout the nation to see his autopsy were denied. A year ago leading medical authorities interested in his rare case shook their heads and despaired of his recovery. During a period of five months, Moynier recovered from a deep streptococcus infection of the nose, cavernous sinus thrombosis, double pneumonia, staphylococci septicemia and spinal meningitis—five often fatal diseases—Moynier is perfectly hale and hearty in San Marino today.

Leningrad Capture Threatened From Three Points

Nazis Prepare Air Offensive

Parachutists Probably To Be Used In Landing Troops Across Dnieper

GERMANS AND FINNS JOIN IN OFFENSIVE

(International News Service) MOSCOW, Aug. 20.—German's armies are preparing to hop over the Dnieper river in the greatest air-borne offensive since the fall of Crete, it was believed today as the red air force battled fleets of Nazi flying transports on the Ukraine front.

Several huge four-engined Junkers transports were shot down yesterday, an official bulletin said.

Each carried a light tank in addition to troops.

Planes Arrive

"Large numbers" of Junkers and Messerschmitts have been arriving in the German lines on the southwestern front, the Moscow communication said adding, "Soviet planes took off, attacked and shot down three Messerschmitts and four Junkers."

German military officials in Berlin said the broad reaches of the Dnieper presented no great military difficulty. In London British authorities said they expected paratroopers to play an important part in the German attempt to force a crossing of the Dnieper.

As the Germans prepared for a fresh offensive in the south, Nazi troops menaced strongly-fortified Leningrad from a new direction—based on Novgorod, 100 miles to the southeast. Fighting also was revived suddenly on the south central front in the Gomel sector.

Revealing that a 24-hour battle continued with unabated fury thru the night on two fronts, the noon Soviet communiqué said:

"During the night fighting went on along the entire front. It was especially stubborn in the directions of Novgorod and Gomel."

Point At Leningrad

As the German campaign in the Ukraine entered a new phase, with the Dnieper river the center of fighting, Russian authorities expressed the conviction that the Nazis are engaged in a whole-hearted northern campaign to take Leningrad.

Three German and German-Finnish armies now are pressing upon Russia's second largest city. One is moving down the Karelian Isthmus from a point about 75 miles north of Leningrad; a second has thrust beyond Kingisepp, 75 miles southwest of the former capital, and the third moves from Novgorod.

But the army striking from Novgorod apparently has as its immediate objective the Leningrad-Moscow railroad, 40 miles to the east. Severance of this line would isolate Leningrad completely so far as rail communications are concerned.

Russia's announcement that fighting now rages around Novgorod revealed a German advance of more than 60 miles north of Lake Ilmen since last week, when the reds reported a three-day battle at Soltsy.

Cash Milk Income Reaches New High

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Dairy farmers' cash income from milk for the first six months of 1941 reached the highest total in more than a decade and was almost double the low of 1933, according to the Milk Industry Foundation.

U. S. farm milk income during January-June 1941 of $888,000,000 represented an increase of 18.09 per cent over the same period of 1940 when farm cash income from milk was $752,000,000. This increase was greater than that for all other farm products combined, excluding government payments which registered a rise of 17.09 per cent for the six months.

June 1941 farm cash milk income stood at $182,000,000, or 31.88 per cent above June of last year and 4.60 per cent above May 1941. Prospects indicate that milk income will continue sharply higher than a year earlier.

RAILROAD FIREMAN SERIOUSLY WOUNDED

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Aug. 20.—Chester Allen, 40, a union railroad fireman of Turtle Creek, was seriously wounded Tuesday at a Homestead restaurant shooting. Police arrested Owen Roach, of Homestead.

Here Are Answers To Draft Questions

No Need To Ask Anybody The Questions Now, Here Are The Answers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Following are answers to some of the questions that might be raised by selectees or national guardsmen under the war department's announcement Tuesday on the order in which they will be released from active army service.

Q. How long will the average selectee or national guardsman with "no strings attached" have to serve under the policy?

A. An average of from 14 to 18 months, depending upon location of the man's unit, his amount of training and his assignment, and the extent to which the nation is involved in the international situation.

Q. Which men will be released first under the new policy?

A. Those with dependents and those upon whom service would work a "hardship." They will be released immediately when their cases are properly established.

Over 28

Q. When will men who were 28 years of age or over July 1, 1941, be released?

A. Immediately upon their own application regardless of length of service but in the order of their induction.

Q. When will married men be released?

A. Upon their application at the end of 12 months' service.

Q. When will the army release men who were to have been discharged after 12 months following their induction last Fall in view of recently-passed legislation authorizing their retention an additional 18 months?

A. An estimated 150,000 national guardsmen, 10,000 reserve officers, 20,000 selectees, and approximately 10,000 guard officers inducted last November will be released from active service prior to December 10, this year, the international situation permitting. The men will not be released, however, while their units are on maneuvers or engaged in other special training.

Q. May enlisted men eligible for release remain on active duty beyond period of one year?

A. Yes, either by enlisting in the regular army for three years or by requesting an extension of their term of service to the total of 30 months recently authorized by congress.

May They Remain

Q. May men 28 years old or older remain in active service despite passage of the law to defer them?

A. Men 28 years old or older, including soldiers in regular army, selectees or national guardsmen may be allowed to re-enlist or stay in service if they are non-commissioned officers or have "clearly demonstrated an ability which would warrant their appointment as non-commissioned officers" or if they have specialist training. The war department holds that such procedure "will result in steady improvement in the quality of the soldier on active duty."

Q. When will reserve officers be released from active duty?

A. The war department directed last February that approximately 50 percent of the reserve officers would be released at the end of one year of service.

National Guard

Q. How are national guard officers affected by the department's new policy?

A. Details covering release of national guard officers from active duty have not yet been completed. In general, however, they will be released from active duty on the same basis as reserve officers.

Q. How many guard and reserve officers will be affected by the war department's policy?

A. Approximately 10,000, or half of the reserve officer personnel, and a like number of guard officers will be released from active duty upon completion of one year of service.

Q. What is the purpose of the war department's new policy?

A. The department says: "The general purpose of the . . . procedure is to permit the military training of annual increments of officers and enlisted men by replacing those now in active service as rapidly as the situation permits."

Military authorities explained that the war department had requested congressional authority to extend the service of selectees, national guardsmen and reservists as a "leeway" measure in the event the international situation would require their additional service. Also, it was explained, the war department did not want to release large numbers of men—such as the entire national guard personnel—at one time because the army thus would be faced with emasculation of its various units.

Legion Of Honor Plans Corn Roast

Annual Event Will Take Place At Boyd Cottage On August 29

Members of the Legion of Honor are making arrangements for the annual corn roast, which will take place at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Boyd, of Chapin road, August 29, at 6:30 o'clock.

The committee in charge, appointed by Commander Chris G. Walker, consists of: Ches C. Sweezy, general chairman; Clarence A. Jarrett, W. J. Chapman, and Charles E. Allen.

The corn and all the trimmings will be furnished free, and members of the Legion of Honor families are also invited.

Reception Tonight For New Pastor Of Christian Church

Members and friends of Central Christian church will gather in the church this evening, following prayer meeting, for a reception in honor of the new pastor, Rev. Sidney K. Bliss, formerly of Beaver, Pa.

Mr. Bliss, who formerly held a Vermont pastorate, was installed as pastor of the local church on Sunday.

Inspector At Airport Today

Most of today will be given over to flight tests at the New Castle Airport as quite a number of local student pilots are examined by a Civil Aeronautics Inspector, in view of securing advanced licenses and ratings.

Many of those in the Westminster College and Slippery Rock State Teachers college flying classes are scheduled to take examinations for private licenses today.

Seeks Sales Tax

Senator Vandenberg

United States Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg (R.) of Michigan proposes a 5 per cent manufacturers' sales tax to raise approximately $1,250,000,000 in new revenues. Vandenberg asserts that he has "substantial support" for his proposal within the senate finance committee.

The army isn't as tough as it used to be. It used to give the soldier arnica soap to wash his teeth.

Survivor Tells Of Pier Tragedy

George Davies, 46, From Hospital Cot Tells About Blaze At Brooklyn Pier

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—A vivid eyewitness account of the fire aboard the S. S. Panuco, which was wrecked in Monday's Brooklyn waterfront blaze, was given Tuesday by George Davies, 46, one of the survivors.

Speaking from a cot in the emergency ward of the Long Island College Hospital, Davies, an employee of the Turbine Engineering Corporation, who was aboard the vessel to inspect her engines, declared:

"I was in the engine room aft when I heard the cry of fire and I ran for the companionway and reached the deck. I saw in a second it was hopelessly to try to reach safety by the way of the dock."

Just Like Rats

"Men were steaming like rats out of every hatch—longshoremen, sailors, ship's officers. The Panuco's chief engineer was shouting orders to man the pumps but no one could obey because of the greasy smoke and the flames."

"On the water side there were about six barges moored to the Panuco. I saw some men leap between the barges and the ship's side. I think some were crushed there."

The air was filled with cries and screams for help. "Explosions started in the forepart of the ship and great chunks of flaming material shot through the air like rockets. They fell in the water, lined with struggling men. I think I was one of the few men with presence of mind enough to seize a ring life preserver. "I could see nothing once I was in the water. I struck out for what I thought was the shore. The smoke choked men. It was all I could do to keep myself going. I reached a dock and found a trailing rope. "Just as I seized it, I saw an old man swimming near me and I gave him the life ring. I tried to climb the rope but after a few feet I fell back in the water too weak to climb. Then I heard cries for help, and I called out, telling the men to swim toward me. "I wrapped the rope about me and lost consciousness. Somebody hauled me up to the dock."

The oil embargo didn't go quite far enough. It should have required the Japs to give back the two-year supply they have laid in.

McElwain Funeral Held At Church

Largely Attended Rites For J.
L. Guy McElwain Take Place Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—Funeral services for J. L. Guy McElwain, who died on Saturday morning at the Northside hospital, Youngstown, were held on Tuesday afternoon from the Wurttemberg United Presbyterian church.

Rev. J. E. Caughey, pastor, officiated and he was assisted by Rev. Charles Z. Bell, of the Ellwood-New Castle road. The services were very largely attended by bereaved relatives and friends. Many lovely floral tributes evidenced the esteem and affection of which he was held.

During the rites a quartet, Mrs. Harry Furry, Mrs. William Huber, Mrs. R. H. Kirk, and W. L. Timblin, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Taylor sang two appropriate selections, "As a Flower," and "The Twenty-Third Psalm."

Interment was made in the Wurttemberg cemetery with pallbearers being Chalmers Hazen, Clair Steffler, Ted Smith, Harvey Hazen, Chauncey Boots and Ray Marshall.

Farewell Honors Mary Kay Connell

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—A lovely farewell party for Mary Kay Connell was held last evening by associate office employees of the Seamless Steel and Tube company with Mrs. Ralph Newton entertaining at the Morrison home, in Wayne avenue. Mrs. Ray Barto shared as a special guest.

The evening was devoted to a variety of entertaining games and contests after which the hostess was assisted in serving a tempting lunch by Miss Dorothy Jane Dambach.

Miss Connell, who with her family is moving to Pittsburgh in the near future, was presented with a lovely gift.

Frisco Auxiliary Meets On Tuesday

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—For the bi-weekly meeting members of the Franklin Township Fire Department Auxiliary gathered last night at the Frisco hall.

Mrs. Eddith Gordon, president, was in charge. Mrs. Nathan Woodfield, Mrs. Wilbert Hall, Mrs. Price, Mrs. Jesse Brown and Mrs. A. W. Klinkindner, who attended the convention last week at New Kensington, told interesting activities, which they attended. Formal reports will be given at a later meeting.

The next session will be on Tuesday, September 2, at the hall.

Gradale Chapter To Honor Brides

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—An informal meeting of the Alpha Chapter, Gradale Sorority, was held last evening at the Sixth street club rooms.

Plans were discussed for a party to be held on Tuesday, September 16, for three brides of the organization, namely, Mrs. Robert Kelly, Mrs. Lewis Rossi, and Mrs. George Thornhill.

Mrs. Dorothy Shaffer and Miss Helen Walker shared as special guests. A regular meeting will be held next Tuesday evening.

P. H. C. Lodge Plans Events

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—A regular meeting of the P. H. C. Lodge was held last evening at the bank hall with the special guest being the new state deputy, Mr. Stevens.

During the meeting, plans were made for the observance of the 49th anniversary of the Lodge in October, and the beginning of a series of card parties late in September.

Tuesday, September 2, is the date of the next meeting.

Gallaher Funeral Thursday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—Funeral services for Emmett E. Gallaher, who died suddenly on Tuesday morning at his home, will be held on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence, Ellwood-Zelenople road.

The services will be conducted by Rev. L. A. Lightfritz, pastor of the Lillyville Church of God, with interment to be made in the Hickernell cemetery.

EVER READY CLUB AT McMURDO HOME

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—The Ever Ready club members were pleasantly welcomed last evening at the home of Mrs. Sadie McMurdy, Clover avenue, with Mrs. Clarence Wiley sharing as a special guest.

Bingo was enjoyed for several hours with the award going to Mrs. Richard Skewis.

After the hostess served a dainty lunch members departed to meet again next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Stephen Mondel, Franklin avenue.

Mary Braeden Circle Plans Hamburg Fry

Annual Outing For Families To Be Held Tuesday At Ewing Park

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—Ten members of the Mary Braeden Circle of the Wurttemberg U. P. church were pleasantly entertained last evening for the August meeting at the home of Mrs. Hugh Timblin, of Wurttemberg.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Lester Pander and sidelights of the national convention were given by Mrs. Victor Koach.

During the meeting plans were made to hold a hamburg fry next Tuesday evening at Ewing Park grove for members and their families.

After a social hour, the hostess was aided in serving a tempting lunch by Mrs. Herbert Bintrim, a special guest.

Members were invited to meet again on Tuesday, September 9, at the home of Mrs. Loren Graham, of Wurttemberg.

Skating Party Held By Council

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—The Young People's Council of Ellwood City churches gathered last evening at Stoughton's Beach, Slippery Rock for a skating party with fifty members and guests in attendance.

Later in the evening, the group returned to Ewing Park for a corn and wiener roast. Arrangements for the evening were in charge of Miss Ruth Musselman and Emerson Powell.

A business meeting will be held on Monday, September 8.

CHRISTIAN CLASS MEETS FOR PICNIC

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—Huber's Beach, North Sawickley, was the scene of a pleasant gathering last evening when members of the Married Couples class of the First Christian church gathered for a picnic supper. Twenty took part in the evening's activities.

A mushball game was the evening's diversion. Another regular meeting will be held in September.

STONER-LOGUE ENGAGEMENT TOLD

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stoner, of Woodside avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Stoner to James Logue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Logue, New Castle.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Memory Expert Is Kiwanis Speaker

Percy Lutton, Tom Ben, Richard Downing Named Convention Delegates

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—A. S. Kellogg, memory expert, of Chicago, Ill., was the guest speaker for the weekly dinner meeting of the Kiwanis club last evening at the Trinity Lutheran church.

He was a very interesting speaker and amazed the membership by the way in which he could answer their questions, resembling "a walking encyclopedia." He offered valuable suggestions to members for training their minds to remember facts and figures.

Joe Connell, who was the club representative at the Keystone State camp for boys at State College, gave a brief but most interesting report of the camp activities.

Percy Lutton, Tom Ben and E. R. Downing were named delegates to the state convention to be held in Pittsburgh in mid-September, and alternate delegates named were L. C. Barnhart, J. Ellis Bell and William Herge. Two members of the Ellwood club, Dr. H. E. Helling, and Boyd Barrett, will serve on the reception committee.

Next week's meeting will be in charge of E. R. Downing.

BAPTIST CLASS MEETS FOR PICNIC

ELLWOOD CITY, Aug. 20.—Members of the Young Married Couples class of the First Baptist church gathered last evening at Ewing park for a picnic supper. Bob Jones was a special guest.

After the supper, the evening was spent informally. Another meeting will be held at the church on Tuesday, September 16.

Poverty Point No. 9, district school, will have their annual picnic event at the community park, New Wilmington, on Saturday, August 23.

The event will be an all day affair. A committee is in charge of the arrangements.

ARRESTED FOR THEFT

Mike Russo, 19, 418 Uber street is held in the county jail and Armando Sabino, 15, 501 Friendship street, is in the juvenile home, charged with burglary having been arrested by Deputy Sheriff Badger and Constable Fair. They allegedly confessed to robbing the Russett grocery Marble street, of articles worth almost $20.00, a portion of which were recovered by the officers. The information was signed before Alderman J. C. Brice and a hearing will be held at a near future date.

DOES ADOLF RESEMBLE SOMEONE?

Adolf

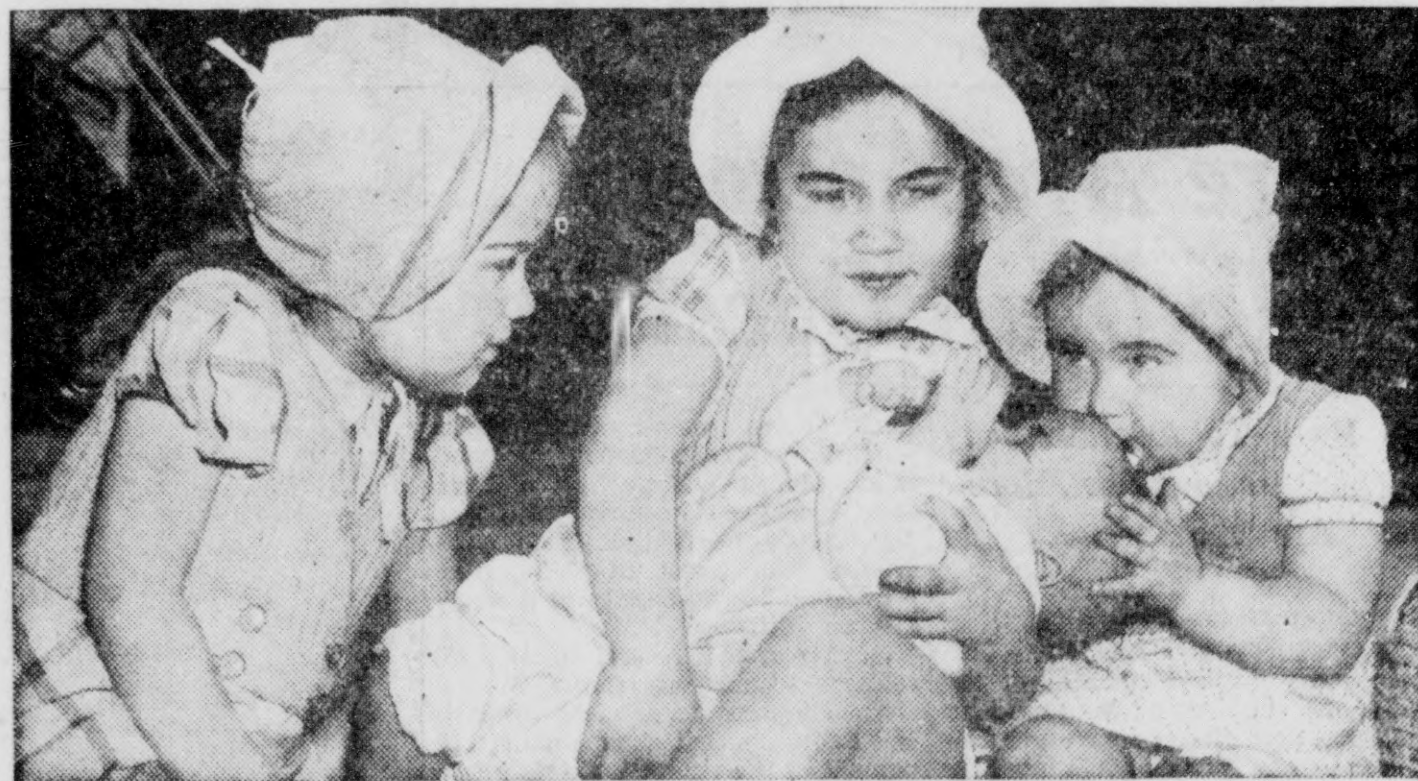

If you note a resemblance between Adolf, cat owned by Chicagoan Walter Witt, and a well-known European dictator, it is pure coincidence. Of course, that black streak on Adolf's upper lip might be mistaken for a mustache and, in this pose, Adolf might be expounding some theory of hate, but, as we said, such a thing would be coincidental. And Witt declines to reveal why he named his pet Adolf.

Learning How to Stop a Tank

Church Society Will Have Picnic

St. Michael's Church Ladies Aid Society At Algoma Camp, Sunday

Members of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Michael's church, will have their annual picnic event at Algoma camp, Sunday, August 24.

The event will be an all day affair and buses will leave the church at 2, 3, 4, and 5 o'clock. All kinds of entertainment will be provided, the music to be furnished by the Mikovic brothers, musicians who played for the Slovak Day celebration.

Mrs. Stephen Danish is the chairman of the event; and those on the maintenance committee are Stephen Gonda and John Melanic.

Ladies of the society have been making a quilt and it will be the grand prize to be given away at the picnic. The public is invited to attend, and following the activities dainty refreshments will be served.

More Oil Tankers Will Be Built

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—The maritime commission announced today the award of a $40,500,000 contract to the Sun Shipbuilding Co., Chester, Pa., for construction of 15 additional oil tankers.

Including today's award, the company has now contracted to build a total of 92 tankers at a cost of $248,000,000. Deliveries are scheduled to begin in December, and all of the 92 tankers are to be launched by the end of 1943.

The commission, in awarding the additional contracts, permitted the company to withdraw from a previous commitment whereby it would have built ten cargo vessels.

A spokesman, commenting on the decision to build the tankers instead of the merchant ships, said it was the maritime commission's contribution toward alleviating a threatening tanker shortage, both as regards the western hemisphere and the aid-to-Britain situation.

Leg Broken In Auto Accident

Cyrus Pitzer, age 55, of 522 West Madison avenue, has a fracture of his right leg and is a patient in the New Castle hospital, having been admitted to the institution at 2 a. m. today. He was reported injured when struck by an auto driven by Bruce Sandifer, of 113 East Clayton street, at Liberty and Cherry streets at 1:30 p. m.

According to the report made to police Sandifer was driving his auto north in Liberty street.

Pitzer was said to be standing on the left side of a parked car, the door of which was open. A Sandifer further reported Pitzer stepped backward and was struck by Sandifer's car.

QUOTES LINCOLN TO SHOW PARALLEL OF SITUATION NOW

national guardsmen will be mustered out of the army between now and Dec. 10; that men who attained the age of 28 by last July 1 will be released in order of their length of service; that all married men will be discharged after 12 months in camp, and that all others need expect to serve only from 14 to 18 months in all.

This army plan of demobilization came only 24 hours after Mr. Roosevelt signed the bill extending from 12 months to 30 the time men can be kept in camp. Only by the critical margin of 203 to 202 had administration leaders forced the 30-month service act through the house.

Rid of Dissenters

In the absence of war department clarification, and on the basis of the president's comment at Tuesday's press conference, observers reached the conclusion that the army high command is intent on weeding out dissenters, trouble-makers and older men in the enlisted ranks to make way for younger, more pliable and more willing men.

Mr. Roosevelt himself had urged the legislation extending military service by 18 months on the ground that arbitrary discharges at the end of 12 months would disintegrate the army. Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff, had testified in similar vein before congressional committees, pointing out in particular how badly insular outposts would be disrupted.

But the president put a different slant on everything yesterday when he picked up a volume of Sandburg's biography of Lincoln and used the emancipator's famous words at the end of the first year of the Civil war to draw a parallel with America's 1941 frame of mind. He read to his press conference the statement Lincoln made to a Mrs. Mary Livermore of Chicago in 1862. The lady had come seeking assurance of a quick and painless end of the war, but Mr. Roosevelt quoted his illustrious predecessor as saying:

"I have no word of encouragement to give! The military situation is far from bright; and the country knows it as well as I do."

"The fact is the people have not yet made up their minds that we are at war with the south. They have not buckled down to the determination to fight this war through; for they have got the idea into their heads that we are going to get out of this fix somehow by strategy!"

"That's the word—strategy! General McClellan thinks he is going to whip the rebels by strategy; and the army has got the same notion. They have no idea that the war is to be carried on and put through by hard, tough fighting, that it will hurt somebody; and that no headway is going to be made while this delusion lasts."

Applies Now

Mr. Roosevelt wrote his own headline to this quotation. It was: "President quotes Lincoln; draws parallel." In response to questions he said the philosophy expressed applied to the whole world, including the United States.

On the score of management-labor difficulties, the president has before him the problem of seizing the Kearny N. J. yard of the Federal Shipbuilding & Drydock Corporation. Although the management consistently up to last night refused to accept a national defense board solution of the controversy with CIO shipworkers, and four federal agencies had recommended the plant be taken over for government operation, Mr. Roosevelt made one final effort to avoid such a step.

If the Kearny management remains aloof a matter of hours longer, it is expected, however, that the president will take the yard over and start 16,000 men back to work on nearly half a billion dollars worth of naval construction.

Meanwhile, the army and navy are drawing up a new survey of U. S. production ability as against British, Russian and Chinese war needs running not only through 1941 and 1942 but through 1943.

When a reporter asked Mr. Roosevelt that if this meant the war would continue that long, he rather grimly replied, if necessary.

VISITS FIANCE AT LOWRY FIELD, DENVER

Katherine Shira, of Youngstown road, and Dorothy Perry Cleveland, have returned from a visit with Private Homer Boyd, fiance of the latter. Private Boyd is attached to the U. S. Air Service, and is stationed at Lowry field, Denver, Colorado. He is a machine gunner. The visitors had anticipated locating Private Boyd at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, but found that he had been recently transferred to Lowry field, 900 miles further west, where he is undergoing thirteen weeks training.

Complete Job On New Pipe Line At Cherry St. Bridge

Old Pipe Cut Into Sections And Removed From Bridge
Floor Tuesday

Workmen have completed the job of laying a new water line under the Shenango river near the East Cherry street bridge, to replace the old pipe line on the bridge floor. The old pipe was cut into sections and removed from the bridge floor Tuesday. By removing this old pipe, motorists will have better than six inches of additional space on the bridge, which is greatly needed because of the narrowness of the bridge. Openings that were made at each end of the bridge to make the water line connections have now been closed and traffic over the structure is again normal. The county has let a contract for general repairs to this bridge and this work will get under way in the near future.

LOTS OF REPAIR WORK BEING DONE

Many home owners in the Seventh Ward are making repairs to the exterior and interior of their buildings at the present time, it is noted.

Painting, reroofing, tinning and remodeling appear to be the main kinds of repairs being done now. Several houses are being turned into duplexes.

FALLS ON VACATION
GROVE CITY, Aug. 20—Miss Lillian Cavey, 64, chief cook at the Methodist Orphanage, Lake Bluff, Ill., fell at the cottage near Blacktown where she is vacationing, and was admitted to a local hospital suffering from severe cuts and bruises about the head.

Left-handed baseball pitchers are called southpaws from the fact that most baseball diamonds are laid out so that the home plate is south of the pitcher's box. Southpaws are so called because they swing their arms to the south when pitching.

BOY INJURED IN FALL FROM HAMMOCK
Robert B. Welker, aged 6 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Welker, of R. F. D. No. 3, was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital at 10 o'clock Tuesday evening, suffering from injuries sustained when he fell from a hammock. An X-ray revealed no bones were broken.

Court Of Honor Friday Evening

August Court of Honor for Boy Scouts in the New Castle District will be held Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Scout Council room in the Scout Building, 328 Highland avenue.

Board of Review for this court was held Tuesday evening, and many Scouts are prepared for advancement on Friday.

Set Dates Soon For Economic Lectures

A five-point program has been set up and announced as the 1942 goal of the American Economic and Business Foundation, whose headquarters are in New Wilmington.

As in past years, the foundation intends to bring headlines in the realm of business and finance here to lecture before business and industrial leaders. The opening date for the 1941-42 series will be announced shortly.

Capt. William McKee, president of the foundation, stressed that his program this year is expected to attract a much larger group of bankers, business executives and others in key positions who influence economic and business thinking.

Many New Castle and Lawrence county executives attend the lectures each winter.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—The National league batting champion of 1941 probably will win his title with the lowest average in more than 20 years and, by contrast, the high man in the American figures to clinch his crown with the best mark in nearly as long in his circuit. Once more the way will be opened up for arguments among the supporters of the two major leagues running to the effect that the American is a hitters' paradise and the National a pitchers' haven.

Be that as it may, as of today the American has five men hitting at a better pace than the top hand in the National, with Ted Williams, the gangling outfield star of the Boston Red Sox still the No. 1 man in the big show.

Browns-Red Sox Split
With five hits including three home runs in eight trips yesterday as the Sox lost to the St. Louis Browns, 3 to 2, and then won by 10 to 7, Williams lifted his average to .410 and pulled still farther away from his nearest pursuer in his own league and continued to make the National's swat-smiths look like novices.

And while Williams is out in front all alone in the American league batting tussle, more than 40 points ahead of his nearest man, Cecil Travis of Washington, the National remains strictly a nip-and-tuck struggle among Eiten, Johnny Hopp of the St. Louis Cardinals, Pete Reiser of Brooklyn, Johnny Mize of the Cards and Dixie Walker of the Dodgers, with a couple of others in threatening distance.

The pennant races were curtailed along with the hitting by rain yesterday, but through it all the Dodgers took a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 9 to 0 and 6 to 2, and increased their lead over the idle Cardinals to two full games in the only National loop contests played.

Senators Top Indians
The opener was a five-hitter hurled by Curt Davis, marking his ninth win of the season and his fourth shutout. In the nightcap, Tom Drake, the rookie from Nashville, also turned in a five-hitter before being lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

In the American, the Chicago White Sox moved to an edge of two

Hardesty To Oppose Ammons

Second Half Fight May Be Deadlocked At Bessemer
Today

HILLVILLE HAS NOT YET BEATEN HARDESTY

Indications point to a sharp race during the remainder of the second half between Bessemer and Hillville, the former having one game on Hillville up to today. However, the teams may be tied after the game scheduled to start at 5:45 p. m. today at Hillville.

According to James Martin, manager of Bessemer, Hardesty who apparently is Hillville's jinx will hurt for Bessemer and Walter Ammons the six foot two inch, 220 pound hurler for Hillville will oppose him. Not so very long ago Hillville shot J. Pepe into the box in an effort to stop Hardesty but he failed. And now that Ammons, an ace hurler also for the Youngstown S. & T. is to hurl a big crowd is anticipated.

The other game at 5:45 p. m. will find Ellwood City opposed to Wampum at Wampum.

The standing of the Lawrence County league follows:

	W. L. Pct.
Bessemer	6 2 .750
Hillville	6 3 .666
Ellwood City	2 3 .400
Wampum	1 5 .166

The Hillville-Bessemer game Monday night ended in the last half of the sixth frame when Hillville claimed it was too dark to play and walked off the field. The umpire ordered the game to proceed. Umpire Melhale has not yet turned in a report but no count forfeited the game to Bessemer.

When the "walk off" occurred Bessemer was leading five to four. Hillville was at bat. One man was down and the batter had two strikes. One player walked upon the field and then was followed by other players. According to Manager Martin of Bessemer, Hillville did not obey his "play ball."

Vic Ross Seeded Number Three Star Eliminated In Opening Round

The Lawrence County annual night tennis tourney began last night at the Leslie court on the West Side with three hotly contested matches being played.

Vic Ross seeded number three star was eliminated by Harry Ames of Ellwood City in two straight sets—6-3, 6-4. In another match Andy Anderson defeated Manny Welles 6-2, 8-6, and Fleming defeated Emrick 6-4, 6-3.

Tonight the following matches will be played:
Tommy Jones vs. Laird Daubenspeck.
Al Jones vs. R. Miller.
Miller and Daubenspeck brothers are from Ellwood City, and highly rated in tennis circles.

There will be four matches on Thursday night as follows:
E. Calvert vs. K. Moore, 8 p. m.
D. Graham vs. B. Campbell, 9 p. m.
H. Ayres vs. Fleming, 10 p. m.
A. Fitzguy vs. W. Fraley, 11 p. m.

PATTY SETS NEW SWIM RECORD

Miss Patty Aspinall of the Riviera club, Indianapolis, Ind., smiles happily to herself as she is taken from a High Point, N. C., pool after winning the 200-meter breaststroke event of the Women's National A. U. swimming championships. Patty broke the old record for the meet with a new time of 3 minutes 14.9 seconds.

New Castle Defeated By Butler Nine, 18-2

Completely baffled by the port-side slants of Russin, crack W. & J. college puncheon, the New Castle All-Stars were defeated by Butler, 18-2, in the first round of the Western, Pennsylvania free baseball school tourney, Tuesday night in Butler.

Cheered by more than 2,500 bleachers, Russin performed his chore like a major leaguer, permitting his opponents to bang out only four hits. He struck out 15 batters and issued only three free tickets to the initial sack.

Locals Score
Russin, however, got off to a shaky start in the first canto. After Genocoff fanned, Jim Mayberry laced a double along the right field foul line. Al Orlando followed with a one-bagger to left. Mayberry stopping at third. Shabala walked, leading the cushions. Connors became the second strikeout victim. Mayberry crossed the pay station when Johnson got a free ticket. Evers fanned.

Butler countered with a tally in the home half. New Castle broke the deadlock in the third when Orlando scampered all the way to third when Early, third baseman, and Stevens, left field, permitted Orlando's grounder to roll merrily on between their legs. Orlando scored on a pass ball.

In the fourth, Butler siege guns opened with a blitzkrieg that left the scorers gasping for air before the game ended. After counting two runs in the fourth, the Scampiners followed with a five-run spree in the fifth and a seven-run onslaught in the seventh. Crouch and Henry sparked the attack, Crouch blasting two long triples deep into the right field pocket.

Colella Hurt
Phil Colella, the 15-year-old wonder boy who was slated to toe the knoll for New Castle, reported with a swollen finger on his pitching hand. The right-hander was hurt while "warming up" Monday. Smed Pyle took over the job.

Sports cocktail
New Castle high's football opener now is only 15 nights away. The team, confidentially, is still minus a nickname, an important part of any grid eleven. The judges are still studying the scores of sobriquets sent in by contestants recently. Where are the Shelloag brothers, Alex and Fred?

A. G. Capezzati, Bessemer high's erudite mentor, looks over his 1941 grid stock during Monday afternoon's meeting in the high school. The athletes will undergo a medical check-up during the session, slated to start at 3 o'clock. Westminster and Slippery Rock moguls are rushing plans for the opening of fall gridiron drills.

John F. Kelly, Notre's Dame's football captain of 1938, has become an F. B. I. agent. How is Clark Shaughnessy, Stanford's coach, going to find time this fall to coach his Indians, write a book, scribble for a newspaper syndicate and appear on a radio program once a week? Paul Scally, Penn State's 175-pound national collegiate champ, has joined the flying cadets.

Wicky Harkins, Philly boxer, operates independently. He operates a prosperous tree surgery business and really doesn't have to fight for a living.

Gary Cooper, Cary Grant and Edie Albert are leading candidates for the role of Lou Gehrig in the flicker depicting the life of the late baseball great. Mrs. G. favors Cooper. So do we. Paul Gallico is composing the scenario. The first 52 major league night games this season lured more than 950,000 fans. The National league, which played 31 of the clashes, performed before 596,381 customers.

With Bob Feller on the firing line, the Indians are flopping. What will Cleveland do with Feller in the army? Outfielder Al Lyons of Joplin must be a Dodger at heart. He was born a southpaw but broke the pegger. Now he's a right-hander! One night last week Middle Atlantic teams couldn't find the handle on the ball. Loop members chalked up 28 errors.

Interviewed after receiving a three year contract to manage the Chicago White Sox Jimmy Dykes said he is perfectly satisfied. At $27,500 per annum, ebullient Jimmy should be. It looks like the law of average finally caught up with the Pittsburgh Pirates. They're the same Buccos now.

INDEPENDENT FIGHTER
Wicky Harkins, Philly boxer, operates independently. He operates a prosperous tree surgery business and really doesn't have to fight for a living.

The Lawrence Indies defeated the Slovaks last night at the Cedar Street field 5 to 4.

Spencer Scott, winner of the 1940 Hambletonian, won the Matron stakes for 4 to 6 year old trotters in the Grand Circuit meet yesterday at the Wisconsin State fair. The purse was $3,500. Spencer took the first and last heats and finished fifth in the second with Nibble Hanover capturing the second heat. The time 2:02 1/2, 2:01 and 2:01 3/4. In the American Stake, Colby Hanover took the first and last heats and Cannon Ball, the second. The time 2:06 1/4, 2:06 1/2 and 2:07 1/4. This stake was for a purse of $4,500, two year old trotters. In the same event for pacers, purse $2,000, Hal Tim won both heats in 2:07 1/2 and 2:08.

Russ Elliott, Raytown, Mo., won the North American Clay Target championship Tuesday at the Grand American Trapshoot, Vandalia, defeating Ed. Ross, Millersport. O. 48-47 in a shoot-off after they tied at 199 of 200. The professional title went to Clyde B. Wells, Bridgeport, Ct., with 199 of 200. Mrs. Bunny Sanders, Keyser, W. Va., cracker 92 of 100 to win the women's title and Jimmy Robinson of Minneapolis won the first national sports writers title with 48 of 50.

Chestnut Ridge Hunt Lazy Hour ranch, Dunbar, will stage a horse show Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Dog training season opened today and will run until March 31. Dogs may roam the fields from sunrise to 9 p. m. as long as accompanied by handlers.

Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox stands an excellent chance of breaking the 18-year-old batting record of Al Lopez, Pittsburgh catcher, is credited with sparking the Pirates into this late winning spree. Joe DiMaggio, with a sprained ankle is out of the Yankee lineup for at least two weeks. Professionally speaking, Joe Louis is headed eastward to prepare for his title defense against Lou Nova, but he's really on a second honeymoon.

Marvin "Bud" Ward and Ray Bil- lows Tuesday moved into quarters in the Great Lakes amateur golf tournament. Co-medalists Eleanor Dudley and Mrs. Russell Mann and other favorites advanced yesterday to second round in the women's western golf championship. Chicago Bears pasted Kenosha Cardinals, 27-6, in the season's first pro football exhibition. Johnny Goodman warms up for a national amateur golf meet with a par 72 over the Omaha Field Club course. Fans Anxious To See Moran Fight

Farrell Fans Highly Pleased With Moran's Recent Victory

TWO CHAMPS ON TUESDAY CARD

Judging from interest being shown in the coming flax extravaganza next Tuesday in the Arena, there are a lot of fans who want to see Rejuvenated Frankie (Moran) cross gloves with Teddy Phillips, a good lightweight of Pittsburgh.

About a week ago Moran who has been "going" good stepped into the ring at Farrell and laid low Billy Shelton, sensational Pittsburgher in a 17 seconds.

According to Sharon sportswriters, random was ago over his sensational feat and fans, male and female, rushed to shake Moran's hand. Fans here have long contended that Moran is one of the best amateurs in the western Pennsylvania district. He carries a terrific wallop in either hand.

However, there'll be other stars on the card. Ward, senior A. M. A. 130 pound champion will battle Julius Wolk of Wierton. He can expect plenty of trouble.

Henry Pratt, classy 118 pound A. M. A. champion will oppose Ossie Pease of Youngstown who is no one's flake dancer.

The Leagues Les and Baby Face oppose Bob Carmichael and Bomber Brown. Nick Retardo, Ellwood's ace takes on Pete Misto. Don Jerry, a new local face, battles Andy Baker at 150 and Russell Baxter, a boy who shows indications of some places, will fight Henry Jackson of East Liverpool in the main bout.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEALL

Queer things happen . . . incidents that are rather difficult to believe, if one didn't have faith in the teller of incidents, what a laughing world this would be . . . always tell the truth and then enjoy a ripe old age full of friendship.

There are more ways than one in securing a chicken for your Sunday dinner . . . you can buy one from a butcher or a farmer . . . you can run over one while out motoring around . . . you can raise them as a hobby, you can go around in the dark of night and raid chicken coops . . . but this is a new way to get a chicken for dinner . . . Forbes Burdette, manager of the local gas company followed a car along the highway from Harlanburg . . . on the rear bumper of this car he was following, perched a nice plump chicken . . . unconcerned as if it was perched on a fence . . . just as he was entering the city limits Mr. B. passed the car with the chicken and motioned to the driver to pull up along the curb . . . he then informed the "chap" that a chicken was perched on the rear bumper of his car . . . the "chap" said he didn't know it, that he was just coming in from his home in the country to go to work and that if Mr. B. wanted the chicken he could have it . . . someone, the Burdette had chicken . . . and from what the boys on the street tell us . . . it was not bad.

It happened over on North Jefferson street about 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Two young men were trying desperately to get their car started by pushing it down the street, and throwing it in gear. Quite a bit of traffic came along behind them. Some of the cars were forced to stop . . . Did any of them offer to give a hand? Yes, after some time a motorist did and you guessed it . . . he was the one with the oldest, richest car in the bunch . . . Maybe someone had given him a lift sometime and he remembered it . . . which only goes to show you how uncooperative some motorists can be.

You can learn an old dog new tricks . . . do you believe that statement . . . just how closely can man be associated with that statement . . . We talk about general conditions, business and political . . . some say we need new blood . . . we agree . . . and that new blood should be young . . . blood that gives strength to a man who will learn the "tricks." May U. S. A. be always great.

Blundering Diplomacy Charged By Japanese

Says American - Anglo-Russ Agreement Will Impair Relations With Moscow

(International News Service)
TOKYO, Aug. 20.—Japan, which admitted today that a military alliance among America, Russia and Britain is in the making, tonight said that such a line-up would gravely impair relations between Tokyo and Moscow.

Asked whether a tri-partite alliance among the nations soon to meet in Moscow would violate the Russo-Japanese neutrality pact, Koh Ishii, spokesman for the Japanese government said flatly, "it would."

Meanwhile, the government revealed through its official news agency Domei that there is no intention of holding as "hostages" the 100 Americans who have not yet been given permission to sail aboard the liner President Coolidge.

Wartime Measure
Japan's new restrictions on all foreigners seeking to leave the country apply to Americans as well as to all others, it was said, and constitute a "natural wartime measure."

The new rules were described as similar to United States regulations effective September 1 requiring entry and exit permits for all foreigners.

Japan also charged the United States with blundering diplomacy in American plans to send goods to Russia via Vladivostok, and at the same time said that difficulties still lie in the way of permitting American citizens to leave the island empire.

Travel difficulties and other international "inconveniences," according to Koh Ishii, government spokesman, contribute to obstacles in the way of the exit of some 200 Americans.

As for reported plans to send

American oil tankers to Vladivostok, Ishii said "United States diplomacy should have more delicacy."
"Japan," the government mouthpiece went on, "wants to keep the Pacific ocean and the Japan sea (between Japan and southeastern Siberia) peaceful, but Japan cannot remain indifferent to sending of war supplies to the Soviet Union by way of Vladivostok."

Japan is watching the situation with grave concern," Ishii reiterated.

Reciprocal Treatment
The spokesman said Japan has no objection to American ships calling at Japanese ports, and said that Nippon has no intention of "freezing" them if they do put in. He promised that American craft would be treated in the same way as Japanese boats such as the Taita Maru, were treated in San Francisco.

In reply to American charges that 200 United States citizens were being held in Nippon as virtual hostages, Ishii said that the Japanese had granted permission for the President Coolidge to call at Yokohama and pick up 24 Americans.

The Americans who were to board the Coolidge for San Francisco included nine officials who arrived from Russia.

According to the spokesman, Japan planned a "friendly reception" for the President liner, but the United States embassy asked that the boat be permitted to take a much larger number than the original 24.

Question Open
The question remains whether the 24 American will be given permission to leave on some other ship. No new negotiations, Ishii said, have been started.

Meanwhile the Japanese press continued to reflect anxiety over Anglo-American collaboration with Russia. The Roosevelt-Churchill war aims declaration, said the Japanese Times-Advertiser, organ of the foreign office, "brooks no good for Japan."

Seeing in the Anglo-American war aims formula a move to end the friendly relations between Japan and Russia, the Times-Advertiser said: "Now, when Japan and the Soviet Union are endeavoring to consolidate peaceful relations, any intervention by third powers cannot be viewed as other than hostile."

Japanese were warned to be wary, as the newspaper pointed out, although the right-point Roosevelt-Churchill declaration did not mention the far east, the policy of frustrating Nazism is the same as antagonism against Japan, and is of a "destructive nature."

Joint military action against Japan in conjunction with the Soviet Union apparently is envisioned, the Times-Advertiser alleged.

Gen. Robert E. Wood Asks For Full Facts

Demands That American People Be Given "Full Facts" On Any Agreement

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—Gen. Robert E. Wood, national chairman of the America First committee, demanded Tuesday that the American people be given "the full facts" of any agreement reached between President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill at their sea meeting.

"Dispatches from London tell us," Gen. Wood stated, "that the English people see in the joint declaration assurances on the part of President Roosevelt that Americana will soon follow up the proposed peace points by active participation in the war."

"The American people are entitled to know the full facts. Secret agreements made by the president have no place under our constitution and democratic system. If he has sought to personally commit this nation to war he should advise the American people so that such purported treaty may be considered and repudiated by the senate, in accordance with the constitution."

"While the cloak of secrecy is a breach of faith with the American people, it is even more unfair to the people of England. It is grossly unjust to them to allow the impression to circulate that the president has the power to bind his people by his own promise of war. We urge that the president make a frank and full disclosure immediately."

Missionary To Cuba To Speak Thursday

Will Be Heard At North Side Community Church At 7:30 O'Clock

Rev. Arthur Pain, noted missionary from Cuba, will speak at the North Side Community church Thursday evening when Dr. Gerald B. Winrod of Wichita, Kan., will begin a four-day speaking engagement.

Mr. Pain is well known throughout the continent for his articles in a Christian publication and he has had many speaking engagements in Bible conferences and churches. In connection with his work in Cuba, Mr. Pain conducts a broadcast in which he is heard in no less than 30 different countries.

He will be accompanied by a native Cuban who was formerly head of the Communist youth movement and Cuba and was designated by the organization to kill Mr. Pain. Through Mr. Pain's efforts, he was converted and has since been a worker for Christianity. He, too, will speak Thursday with Mr. Pain acting as interpreter.

The meeting will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock with a stirring song service.

Johnson Scores Sea Conference As New War Step

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—Sen. Johnson (R. Calif., charged in the senate Tuesday that the joint program drawn up by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill on the high seas has committed this country to war.

In a bitter row over the results of the famed conference, the veteran non-interventionist claimed that there is no other way to interpret the famous eight-point program announced by President Roosevelt after the conference.

Johnson laid particular emphasis on the sixth point of the program which calls for a new order after the destruction of Nazi tyranny.

"How are you going to do it?" Johnson shouted at Democratic Leader Barkley, waving a copy of the eight-point program.

"How are you going to do it, I say? They can do it, and do it one way only and that is by war."

Motorist Held In Fatal Crash

(International News Service)

CLEARFIELD, Pa., Aug. 20.—A coroner's jury recommended Tuesday that Morris W. Sheibel, Youngstown, O., be held for the grand jury on a charge of involuntary manslaughter in connection with the automobile death of Millie C. Howe of Glen Brooke Conn., Acting Coroner Dr. E. S. Erhard reported.

Mrs. Howe, wife of William C. Howe, was fatally injured in an accident at the intersection of routes 119 and 322 at DuBois on August 5. Sheibel, the operator of a car involved in the accident, was released from DuBois hospital on August 15. The inquest was held at the hospital, where Howe is confined with a broken back.

Little Snoring Folks Wake Up

(International News Service)

LITTLE SNORING, Eng., Aug. 20.—The good folk of Little Snoring (honest, that's the name) awoke today, an awide awake, to world wonders once beyond their ken.

They have been to the cinema (movies to you) for the first time in their lives.

A mobile movie unit came to this tiny hamlet, undisturbed for years amid the green countryside of Norfolk county, to boost the local war weapons week. Oldsters and young 'uns alike turned out.

It's a new world for the folk of Little Snoring now.

Federal Food Stamp Racketeering Probed
(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 20.—Investigators continued a sweeping scrutiny into alleged racketeering in the federal food stamp system today after 83 Philadelphia grocers were barred from participation in the plan and 75 others served with "show cause" orders.
Agents for the federal surplus marketing administration also declared 12 additional grocers face arrest for alleged "large-scale" profiteering. FSMA officials said one of every four dealers thus far investigated has been found guilty of violations.

Arrest Two Negroes For Starting Riot
(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Two Negro laborers, Louis Pope, 45, an Edwin Henry, 30, were arrested Tuesday on charges of having forced the tickets which caused a riot and the death of three women Sunday on a Hudson river pier.
The three women were trampled to death when an estimated crowd of 10,000 Negroes tried to jam their way onto an excursion boat which had only accommodations for 3,200. The spurious tickets, police said, had led to the overflow crowd.
